(b) The requirements governing an appeal are as in civil cases generally. When an appeal is sought by filing a notice of appeal, security for costs of appeal, or an affidavit of inability to pay the costs of appeal, and the filing is made in a timely fashion after the date the disposition order is signed, the appeal must include the juvenile court order that is appealable under this section, the court shall advise the child and the child's parent, guardian, or guardian ad litem of the child's rights listed under Subsection (d) of this section.

However, the appellate court may provide for a personal bond.

(h-1) An appeal from an order entered under Section 54.02 respecting transfer of the child for prosecution as an adult does not stay the criminal proceedings pending the disposition of that appeal.

(l) The court may order the child, the child’s parent, or any other person responsible for the support of the child to pay the child’s costs of appeal, including the costs of representation by an attorney, unless the court determines the person to be ordered to pay the costs is indigent.

(m) For purposes of determining indigency of the child under this section, the court shall consider the assets and income of the child, the child’s parent, and any other person responsible for the support of the child.

(n) A child who enters a plea or agrees to a stipulation of evidence in a proceeding held under this title may not appeal an order of the juvenile court entered under Section 54.03, 54.04, or 54.05 if the court makes a disposition in accordance with the agreement between the state and the child regarding the disposition of the case, unless:

(1) the court gives the child permission to appeal; or

(2) the appeal is based on a matter raised by written motion filed before the proceeding in which the child entered the plea or agreed to the stipulation of evidence.

(1) an individual designated by name in an order of the court, including the child's foster parent or the child's parent, if the parent's rights have not been terminated and the court determines that it is in the

(2) the department or an agent of the department.

(c) If the person authorized by the court to consent to medical care is the department or an agent of the department, the department shall, not later than the fifth business day after the date the court provides authorization, file with the court and each party the name of the individual who will exercise the duty and responsibility of providing consent on behalf of the department. Sec. 266.010. Consent to Medical Care by Foster Child at Least 16 Years of Age.

(a) A foster child who is at least 16 years of age may consent to the provision of medical care, except as provided by Chapter 33, if the court with continuing jurisdiction determines that the child has the capacity to consent to medical care. If the child provides consent by signing a consent form, the form must be written in language the child can understand.

(b) A court with continuing jurisdiction may make the determination regarding the foster child's capacity to consent to medical care during a hearing under Chapter 263 or may hold a hearing to make the determination on its own motion. The court may issue an order authorizing the child to consent to all or some of the medical care as defined by Section 266.001. In addition, a foster child who is at least 16 years of age, or the foster child's attorney ad litem, may file a petition with the court for a hearing. If the court determines that the foster child lacks the capacity to consent to medical care, the court may consider whether the foster child has acquired the capacity to consent to medical care at subsequent hearings under Section 263.5031.

(c) If the court determines that a foster child lacks the capacity to consent to medical care, the person authorized by the court under Section 266.004 shall continue to provide consent for the medical care of the foster child.

(d) If a foster child who is at least 16 years of age and who has been determined to have the capacity to consent to medical care refuses to consent to medical care and the department or private agency providing substitute care or case management services to the child believes that the medical care is appropriate, the department or the private agency may file a motion with the court requesting an order authorizing the provision of the medical care.

(e) The motion under Subsection (d) must include:

(1) the child's stated reasons for refusing the medical care; and
(2) a statement prepared and signed by the treating physician that the medical care is the proper course of treatment for the foster child.

(f) If a motion is filed under Subsection (d), the court shall appoint an attorney ad litem for the foster child if one has not already been appointed. The foster child's attorney ad litem shall:

(1) discuss the situation with the child;
(2) discuss the suitability of the medical care with the treating physician;
(3) review the child's medical and mental health records; and
(4) advocate to the court on behalf of the child's expressed preferences regarding the medical care.

(g) The court shall issue an order authorizing the provision of the medical care in accordance with a motion under Subsection (d) to the foster child only if the court finds, by clear and convincing evidence, after the hearing that the medical care is in the best interest of the foster child and:

(1) the foster child lacks the capacity to make a decision regarding the medical care;
(2) the failure to provide the medical care will result in an observable and material impairment to the growth, development, or functioning of the foster child; or
(3) the foster child is at risk of suffering substantial bodily harm or of inflicting substantial bodily harm to others.

(h) In making a decision under this section regarding whether a foster child has the capacity to consent to medical care, the court shall consider:

(1) the maturity of the child;
(2) whether the child is sufficiently well informed to make a decision regarding the medical care; and
(3) the child's intellectual functioning.

(i) In determining whether the medical care is in the best interest of the foster child, the court shall consider:

(1) the foster child's expressed preference regarding the medical care, including perceived risks and benefits of the medical care;
(2) likely consequences to the foster child if the child does not receive the medical care;
(3) the foster child's prognosis, if the child does receive the medical care; and
(4) whether there are alternative, less intrusive treatments that are likely to reach the same result as provision of the medical care.

(j) This section does not apply to emergency medical care. An emergency relating to a foster child who is at least 16 years of age, other than a child in an inpatient mental health facility, is governed by Section 266.009.

(k) This section does not apply to the administration of medication under Subchapter G, Chapter 574, Health and Safety Code, to a foster child who is at least 16 years of age and who is placed in an inpatient mental health facility.

(l) Before a foster child reaches the age of 16, the department or the private agency providing substitute care or case management services to the foster child shall advise the foster child of the right to a hearing under this section to determine whether the foster child may consent to medical care. The department or the private agency providing substitute care or case management services shall provide the foster child with training on informed consent and the provision of medical care as part of the Preparation for Adult Living Program.
Sec. 266.011. Monitoring Use of Psychotropic Drug.

The person authorized to consent to medical treatment for a foster child prescribed a psychotropic medication shall ensure that the child has been seen by the prescribing physician, physician assistant, or advanced practice nurse at least once every 90 days to allow the physician, physician assistant, or advanced practice nurse to:

(1) appropriately monitor the side effects of the medication; and

(2) determine whether:

(A) the medication is helping the child achieve the treatment goals; and

(B) continued use of the medication is appropriate.

HISTORY: Enacted by Acts 2013, 83rd Leg., ch. 204 (H.B. 915), § 13, effective September 1, 2013.

(a) Not later than the 45th day after the date a child enters the conservatorship of the department, the child shall receive a developmentally appropriate comprehensive assessment. The assessment must include:

(1) a screening for trauma; and

(2) interviews with individuals who have knowledge of the child’s needs.

(b) The department shall develop guidelines regarding the contents of an assessment report.

(a) An inmate other than an inmate who is serving a sentence of death or life without parole may be released on medically recommended intensive supervision on a date designated by a parole panel described by Subsection (e), except that an inmate with an instant offense that is an offense described in Article 42A.054, Code of Criminal Procedure, or an inmate who has a reportable conviction or adjudication under Chapter 62, Code of Criminal Procedure, may only be considered if a medical condition of terminal illness or long-term care has been diagnosed by a physician, if:

(1) the Texas Correctional Office on Offenders with Medical or Mental Impairments, in cooperation with the Correctional Managed Health Care Committee, identifies the inmate as being:

(A) a person who is elderly or terminally ill, a person with mental illness, an intellectual disability, or a physical disability, or a person who has a condition requiring long-term care, if the inmate is an inmate with an instant offense that is described in Article 42A.054, Code of Criminal Procedure; or

For the purposes of this subsection, “urban area” means the area in this state within a metropolitan statistical area, according to the standards of the United States Bureau of the Census.

(e) Only parole panels composed of the presiding officer of the board and two members appointed to the panel by the presiding officer may make determinations regarding the release of inmates on medically recommended intensive supervision under Subsection (a) or of inmates released pending deportation. The department shall make reasonable efforts to provide an inmate the opportunity to complete any classes or programs included in the inmate’s individual treatment plan, other than classes or programs that are to be completed immediately before the inmate’s release on parole, in a timely manner so that the inmate’s release on parole is not delayed due to any uncompleted classes or programs.

(c) The board shall conduct an initial review of an eligible inmate not later than the 180th day after the date of the inmate’s admission to the institutional division. The board shall identify any classes or programs that the board intends to require the inmate to complete before releasing the inmate on parole. 3. provide increased use of community penalties designed specifically to meet local needs; and
4. promote efficiency and economy in the delivery of community-based correctional programs consistent with the objectives defined by Section 1.02, Penal Code.

HISTORY: Enacted by Acts 1995, 74th Leg., ch. 76 (S.B. 959), § 7.01, effective September 1, 1995.

Sec. 509.003. Standards and Procedures.

(a) The division shall propose and the board shall adopt reasonable rules establishing:

1. minimum standards for programs, community corrections facilities and other facilities, equipment, and other aspects of the operation of departments;
2. a list and description of core services that should be provided by each department;
Sec. 509.0041. Use of Risk and Needs Assessment Instrument.

The division shall require each department to use the risk and needs assessment instrument adopted by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice under Section 501.0921 to assess each defendant at the time of the defendant’s initial placement on community supervision and at other times as required by the comprehensive reentry and reintegration plan adopted under Section 501.092.

Sec. 509.006. Community Corrections Facilities.

(a) To establish and maintain community corrections facilities, the division may:

1. fund division-managed facilities;
2. fund contracts for facilities that are managed by departments, counties, or vendors;
3. provide funds to departments for the renovation of leased or donated buildings for use as facilities;

5. allow departments, counties, or municipalities to accept and use buildings provided by units of local governments, including rural hospital districts, for use as facilities;
6. provide funds to departments, counties, or municipalities to lease, purchase, or construct buildings or to lease or purchase land or other real property for use as facilities, lease or purchase equipment necessary for the operation of facilities, and pay other costs as necessary for the management and operation of facilities; and
7. be a party to a contract for correctional services or approve a contract for those services if the state, on a biennial appropriations basis, commits to fund a portion of the contract.

(b) The division may require that community corrections facilities comply with state and local safety laws and may develop standards for:

1. the physical plant and operation of community corrections facilities;
2. programs offered by community corrections facilities;
3. disciplinary rules for residents of community corrections facilities; and
4. emergency furloughs for residents of community corrections facilities.

(c) Minimum standards for community corrections facilities must include requirements that a facility:

2. accept only those residents who are physically and mentally capable of participating in any program offered at the facility that requires strenuous physical activity, if participation in the program is required of all residents of the facility.

(d) Standards developed by the division that relate to state jail felony facilities must meet minimum requirements adopted by the board for the operation of state jail felony facilities. The board may adopt rules and procedures for the operation of more than one type of state jail felony facility.

(e) With the consent of the department operating or contracting for the operation of the facility, the board may designate any community corrections facility that is an intermediate sanction facility as a state jail felony facility and confine state jail felons in that facility.

Sec. 509.007. Strategic Plan.

(a) The division shall require as a condition to payment of state aid to a department or county under Section 509.011 that a strategic plan be submitted for the department. The department shall submit the plan required by this subsection. A department may not submit a plan under this section unless the plan is first approved by the judges described by Section 76.002 who established the department. The department shall submit a revised plan to the division each even-numbered year not later than March 1. A plan may be amended at any time with the approval of the division.

(b) A strategic plan required under this section must include:

1. a statement of goals and priorities and of commitment by the department and the judges described by
Section 76.002 who established the department to achieve a targeted level of alternative sanctions;

(2) a description of methods for measuring the success of programs provided by the department or provided by an entity served by the department;

(3) a summary of the programs and services the department provides or intends to provide, including a separate summary of:

Sec. 509.0071. Commitment Reduction Plan.

(a) In addition to submitting a community justice plan to the division under Section 509.007, a department or a regional partnership of departments may submit a commitment reduction plan to the division not later than the 60th day after the date on which the time for gubernatorial action on the state budget has expired under Section 14, Article IV, Texas Constitution.

(b) A commitment reduction plan submitted under this section may contain a request for additional state funding in the manner described by Subsection (e). A commitment reduction plan must contain:

(1) a target number by which the county or counties served by the department or regional partnership of departments will, relative to the number of individuals committed in the preceding state fiscal year from the county or counties to the Texas Department of Criminal Justice for offenses not listed in or described by Article 42A.054, Code of Criminal Procedure, reduce that number in the fiscal year for which the commitment reduction plan is submitted by reducing the number of:

(A) direct sentencing commitments;

(B) community supervision revocations; or

(C) direct sentencing commitments and community supervision revocations;

(2) a calculation, based on the most recent Criminal Justice Uniform Cost Report published by the Legislative Budget Board, of the savings to the state that will result from the county or counties reaching the target number described by Subdivision (1);

(3) an explanation of the programs and services the department or regional partnership of departments intends to provide using any funding received under Subsection (e)(1), including any programs or services designed to enhance public safety, reduce recidivism, strengthen the investigation and prosecution of criminal offenses, improve programs and services available to victims of crime, and increase the amount of restitution collected from persons supervised by the department or regional partnership of departments;

(4) a pledge by the department or regional partnership of departments to provide accurate data to the division at the time and in the manner required by the division;

(5) a pledge to repay to the state, not later than the 30th day after the last day of the state fiscal year in which the lump-sum award is made, a percentage of the lump sum received under Subsection (e)(1) that is equal to the percentage by which the county or counties fail to reach the target number described by Subdivision (1), if the county or counties do not reach that target number; and

(6) if the commitment reduction plan is submitted by a regional partnership of departments, an agreement and plan for the receipt, division, and administration of any funding received under Subsection (e).

(c) For purposes of Subsection (b)(5), if the target number contained in the commitment reduction plan is described by Subsection (b)(1)(B), the county or counties fail to reach the target number if the sum of any increase in the number of direct sentencing commitments and any reduction in community supervision revocations is less than the target number contained in the commitment reduction plan.

(d) A pledge described by Subsection (b)(4) or (5) must be signed by:

(1) the director of the department submitting the commitment reduction plan; or

(2) if the commitment reduction plan is submitted by a regional partnership of departments, a director of one of the departments in the regional partnership submitting the commitment reduction plan.

(e) After reviewing a commitment reduction plan, if the division is satisfied that the plan is feasible and would achieve desirable outcomes, the division may award to the department or regional partnership of departments:

(1) a one-time lump sum in an amount equal to 35 percent of the savings to the state described by Subsection (b)(2); and

(2) on a biennial basis, and from the 65 percent of the savings to the state that remains after payment of the lump sum described by Subdivision (1), the following incentive payments for the department’s or regional partnership’s performance in the two years immediately preceding the payment:

(A) 15 percent, for reducing the percentage of persons supervised by the department or regional partnership of departments who commit a new felony while under supervision;

(B) five percent, for increasing the percentage of persons supervised by the department or regional partnership of departments who are not delinquent in making any restitution payments; and

(C) five percent, for increasing the percentage of persons supervised by the department or regional partnership of departments who are not delinquent in making any restitution payments; partnership of departments who are gainfully employed, as determined by the division.

(f) A department or regional partnership of departments may use funds received under Subsection (e) to provide any program or service that a department is authorized to provide under other law, including implementing, administering, and supporting evidence-based community supervision strategies, electronic monitoring, substance abuse and mental health counseling and treatment, specialized community supervision caseloads, intermediate sanctions, victims' services, restitution collection, short-term incarceration in county jails, specialized courts, pretrial services and intervention programs, and work release and day reporting centers.

(g) Any funds received by a department or regional partnership of departments under Subsection (e):

(1) are in addition to any per capita or formula funding received under Section 509.011; and
(2) may not be deducted from any per capita or formula funding received or to be received by:
(A) another department, if the commitment reduction plan is submitted by a department; or
(B) any department, if the commitment reduction plan is submitted by a regional partnership of departments.

(h) The division shall deduct from future state aid paid to a department, or from any incentive payments under Subsection (e)(2) for which a department is otherwise eligible, an amount equal to the amount of any pledge described by Subsection (b)(5) that remains unpaid on the 31st day after the last day of the state fiscal year in which a lump-sum award is made under Subsection (e)(1). If the lump-sum award was made to a regional partnership of departments, the division shall deduct, in accordance with the agreement and plan described by Subsection (b)(6), the amount of the unpaid pledge from the future state aid to each department that is part of the partnership or from any incentive payments under Subsection (e)(2) for which the regional partnership of departments is otherwise eligible.

HISTORY: Enacted by Acts 2011, 82nd Leg., ch. 1045 (H.B. 3691), § 7, effective June 17, 2011; Enacted by Acts 2011, 82nd Leg., ch. 1074 (S.B. 1055), § 6, effective September 1, 2011; am. Acts 2015, 84th Leg., ch. 770 (H.B. 2299), § 2.57, effective January 1, 2017; am. Acts 2015, 84th Leg., ch. 1051 (H.B. 1930), § 10, effective September 1, 2015.

Sec. 509.011. Payment of State Aid.

(a) If the division determines that a department complies with division standards and if the department has submitted a strategic plan under Section 509.007 and the supporting information required by the division and the division determines the plan and supporting information are acceptable, the division shall prepare and submit to the comptroller vouchers for payment to the department as follows:

(1) for per capita funding, a per diem amount for each felony defendant directly supervised by the department pursuant to lawful authority;
(2) for per capita funding, a per diem amount for a period not to exceed 182 days for each defendant supervised by the department pursuant to lawful authority, other than a felony defendant; and
(3) for formula funding, an annual amount as computed by multiplying a percentage determined by the allocation formula established under Subsection (f) times the total amount provided in the General Appropriations Act for payments under this subdivision.

(a-1) Repealed by Acts 2017, 85th Leg., R.S., Ch. 346 (H.B. 1526), Sec. 3, eff. September 1, 2017.

(b) The division may use discretionary grant funds to further the purposes of this chapter by contracting for services with state agencies or nonprofit organizations. The division may also make discretionary grants to departments, municipalities, or counties for the following purposes:

(1) development and operation of pretrial and presenting services;
(2) electronic monitoring services, surveillance supervision programs, and controlled substances testing services;
(3) research projects to evaluate the effectiveness of community corrections programs, if the research is conducted in cooperation with the Criminal Justice Policy Council;
(4) contract services for felony defendants;
(5) residential services for misdemeanor defendants who exhibit levels of risk or needs indicating a need for confinement and treatment, as described by Section 509.005(b);
(6) establishment or operation of county correctional centers under Subchapter H, Chapter 351, Local Government Code, or community corrections facilities for which the division has established standards under Section 509.006;
(7) development and operation of treatment alternative to incarceration programs under Section 76.017; and
(8) other purposes determined appropriate by the division and approved by the board.

(b-1) The division may award a grant to a department for the development and operation of a pretrial intervention program for defendants who are:

(1) pregnant at the time of placement into the program; or
(2) the primary caretaker of a child younger than 18 years of age.

(c) Each department, county, or municipality shall deposit all state aid received from the division in a special fund of the county treasury or municipal treasury, as appropriate, to be used solely for the provision of services, programs, and facilities under this chapter or Subchapter H, Chapter 351, Local Government Code.

(d) The division shall provide state aid to each department on a biennial basis, pursuant to the strategic plan for the biennium submitted by the department. A department with prior division approval may transfer funds from one program or function to another program or function.

(e) In establishing per diem payments authorized by Subsections (a)(1) and (a)(2), the division shall consider the amounts appropriated in the General Appropriations Act for basic supervision as sufficient to provide basic supervision in each year of the fiscal biennium.

(f) The division annually shall compute for each department for community corrections program formula funding a percentage determined by assigning equal weights to the percentage of the state's population residing in the counties served by the department and the department's percentage of all felony defendants in the state under direct community supervision. The division shall use the most recent information available in making computations under this subsection. The board by rule may adopt a policy limiting for all departments the percentage of benefit or loss that may be realized as a result of the operation of the formula.

(g) If the Texas Department of Criminal Justice determines that at the end of a biennium a department maintains in reserve an amount greater than six months' basic supervision operating costs for the department, the Texas Department of Criminal Justice in the succeeding biennium may reduce the amount of per capita and formula funding provided under Subsection (a) so that in the succeeding biennium the department's reserves do not exceed six months' basic supervision operating costs. The Texas Department of Criminal Justice may adopt policies and standards permitting a department to maintain reserves in an amount greater than otherwise permitted by this subsection as necessary to cover emergency costs or implement new programs with the approval of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice. The Texas Department of Criminal Justice may distribute unallocated per capita or formula funds to provide supplemental funds to individual departments to further the purposes of this chapter.

(b) In determining which departments are proper candidates for grants under this section, the division shall give preference to departments that present to the division a plan that will target medium-risk and high-risk defendants and use progressive sanction models that adhere to the components set forth in Section 469.001, Health and Safety Code. As a condition to receiving a grant, a department must offer a plan that contains some if not all of the following components:

1. an evidence-based assessment process that includes risk and needs assessment instruments and clinical assessments that support conditions of community supervision or case management strategies;
2. reduced and specialized caseloads for supervision officers, which may include electronic monitoring or substance abuse testing of defendants;
3. the creation, designation, and fiscal support of courts and associated infrastructure necessary to increase judicial oversight and reduce revocations;
4. increased monitoring and field contact by supervision officers;
5. shortened terms of community supervision, with increased supervision during the earliest part of the term;
6. strategies that reduce the number of technical violations;
7. improved coordination between courts and departments to provide early assessment of defendant needs at the outset of supervision;
8. graduated sanctions and incentives, offered to a defendant by both the departments and courts served by the department;
9. the use of inpatient and outpatient treatment options, including substance abuse treatment, mental health treatment, and cognitive and behavioral programs for defendants;
10. the use of intermediate sanctions facilities;
11. the use of community corrections beds;
12. early termination strategies and capabilities;
13. gang intervention strategies; and
14. designation of faith-based community coordinators who will develop faith-based resources, including a mentoring program.

It is the policy of the state to strive to ensure that the basic needs for safety, security, and stability are met for each child in Texas. A successful family is the most efficient and effective way to meet those needs. The state and local communities must work together to provide encouragement and support for well-functioning families and ensure that each child receives the benefits of being a part of a successful permanent family as soon as possible.

Sec. 531.1521. [Expires September 1, 2027] Preadmission Information.

(a) The executive commissioner by rule shall develop and implement a system by which the Department of Aging and Disability Services ensures that, for each child with respect to whom the department or a local intellectual and development disability authority is notified of a request for placement in an institution, the child’s parent or guardian is fully informed before the child is placed in the institution of all community-based services and any other service and support options for which the child may be eligible. The system must be designed to ensure that the department provides the information through:
(1) a local intellectual and development disability authority;
(2) any private entity that has knowledge and expertise regarding the needs of and full spectrum of care options available to children with disabilities as well as the philosophy and purpose of permanency planning; or
(3) a department employee.
(b) An institution in which a child’s parent or guardian is considering placing the child may provide information required under Subsection (a), but the information must also be provided by a local intellectual and development disability authority, private entity, or employee of the Department of Aging and Disability Services as required by Subsection (a).

The department may provide the information after the 14th working day after the date the department is notified of the request if the child's parent or guardian waives the requirement that the information be provided within the period otherwise required by this subsection.

(e) The requirements of this section do not apply to a request for the placement of a child in an institution if the child:

(2) contract with a private entity, other than an entity that provides long-term institutional care, to develop a permanency plan for a child who resides in an institution in this state or with respect to whom the department is notified in advance that institutional care is sought; or

(d-2) In implementing permanency planning procedures under Subsection (a) to develop a permanency plan for each child, the Department of Aging and Disability Services shall engage in appropriate activities in addition to those required by Subsection (d) to minimize the potential conflicts of interest that, in developing the plan, may exist or arise between:

   (ii) available placement options; and
   (B) permanency planning is initiated for each child.

Sec. 531.159. [Expires September 1, 2027] Monitoring of Permanency Planning Efforts.

(b) The chief executive officer of each appropriate health and human services agency or the officer's designee must approve the placement of a child in an institution. The initial placement of the child in the institution is temporary and may not exceed six months unless the appropriate chief executive officer or the officer's designee approves an extension of an additional six months after conducting a review of documented permanency planning efforts to unite the child with a family in a permanent living arrangement. After the initial six-month extension of a child's placement in an institution approved under this subsection, the chief executive officer or the officer's designee shall conduct a review of the child's placement in the institution at least semiannually to determine whether a continuation of that placement is warranted. (d) The child may continue residing in the institution after the six-month extension approved under Subsection (c) only if the chief executive officer of the appropriate health and human services agency or the officer’s designee makes subsequent recommendations as provided by Subsection (b) for each additional six-month extension and the executive commissioner or the executive commissioner’s designee approves each extension as provided by Subsection (c).

(e) The executive commissioner or the executive commissioner’s designee shall conduct a semiannual review of data received from health and human services agencies regarding all children who reside in institutions in this state. The executive commissioner, the executive commissioner’s designee, or a person with whom the commission contracts shall also review the recommendations of the chief executive officers of each appropriate health and human services agency or the officer’s designee if the officer or the officer’s designee repeatedly recommends that children continue residing in an institution.

(f) The executive commissioner by rule shall develop procedures by which to conduct the reviews required by Subsections (c), (d), and (e). In developing the procedures, the commission may seek input from the work group on children's long-term services, health services, and mental health services established under Section 22.035, Human Resources Code.

2. the Texas home living (TxHmL) waiver program.

(b) The commission may assess and collect an administrative penalty against a provider who participates in a program to which this section applies for a violation of a law or rule relating to the program. If the commission assesses an administrative penalty against a provider for a violation of a law or rule, the commission may not impose a payment hold against or otherwise withhold contract payments from the provider for the same violation of a law or rule.

(c) After consulting with appropriate stakeholders, the executive commissioner shall develop and adopt rules regarding the imposition of administrative penalties under this section. The rules must:

1. specify the types of violations that warrant imposition of an administrative penalty;
2. establish a schedule of progressive administrative penalties in accordance with the relative type, frequency, and seriousness of a violation;
3. prescribe reasonable amounts to be imposed for each violation giving rise to an administrative penalty, subject to Subdivision (4);
4. authorize the imposition of an administrative penalty in an amount not to exceed $5,000 for each violation;
5. provide that a provider commits a separate violation each day the provider continues to violate the law or rule;
6. ensure standard and consistent application of administrative penalties throughout the state; and
7. provide for an administrative appeals process to adjudicate claims and appeals relating to the imposition of an administrative penalty under this section that is in accordance with Chapter 2001, Government Code.

(d) In determining the types of violations that warrant imposition of an administrative penalty and in establishing the schedule of progressive administrative penalties and penalty amounts under Subsection (c), the executive commissioner must consider:

1. the seriousness of a violation, including:
   (A) the nature, circumstances, extent, and gravity of the violation; and
   (B) the hazard to the health or safety of recipients resulting from the violation;
2. the provider's history of previous violations;
3. whether the provider:
   (A) had prior knowledge of the violation, including whether the provider identified the violation through the provider's internal quality assurance process; and
   (B) made any efforts to mitigate or correct the identified violation;
4. the penalty amount necessary to deter future violations; and
5. any other matter justice may require.

(e) Except as provided by Subsection (f), the executive commissioner by rule shall provide to a provider who has implemented a plan of correction a reasonable period of time following the date the commission sends notice to the provider of the violation to correct the violation before the commission may assess an administrative penalty. The period may not be less than 45 days.

(f) The commission may assess an administrative penalty without providing a reasonable period of time to a provider to correct the violation if the violation:
(1) represents a pattern of violation that results in actual harm;
(2) is widespread in scope and results in actual harm;
(3) is widespread in scope and constitutes a potential for actual harm;
(4) constitutes an immediate threat to the health or safety of a recipient;
(5) substantially limits the provider’s ability to provide care; or
(6) is a violation in which a provider:
   (A) wilfully interferes with the work of a representative of the commission or the enforcement of a law relating to a program to which this section applies;
   (B) fails to pay a penalty assessed by the commission under this section not later than the 10th day after the date the assessment of the penalty becomes final, subject to Section 161.0891; or
   (C) fails to submit a plan of correction not later than the 10th day after the date the provider receives a statement of the violation.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, an administrative penalty ceases to be incurred on the date a violation is corrected.

(h) In this section:
   (1) “Actual harm” means a negative outcome that compromises a recipient’s physical, mental, or emotional well-being.
   (2) “Immediate threat to the health or safety of a recipient” means a situation that causes, or is likely to cause, serious injury, harm, or impairment to or the death of a recipient.
   (3) “Pattern of violation” means repeated, but not pervasive, failures of a provider to comply with a law relating to a program to which this section applies:
      (A) result in a violation; and
      (B) are found throughout the services provided by the provider or that affect or involve the same recipients or provider employees or volunteers.
   (4) “Recipient” means a person served by a program to which this section applies.
   (5) “Widespread in scope” means a violation of a law relating to a program to which this section applies:
      (A) is pervasive throughout the services provided by the provider; or
      (B) represents a systemic failure by the provider that affects or has the potential to affect a large portion of or all of the recipients.

(a) In lieu of demanding payment of an administrative penalty assessed under Section 161.089, the commission may, in accordance with this section, allow the provider subject to the penalty to use, under the supervision of the commission, any portion of the amount of the penalty to ameliorate the violation or to improve services in the waiver program in which the provider participates.

(b) The commission shall offer amelioration to a provider under this section not later than the 10th day after the date the provider receives from the commission a final notification of the assessment of an administrative penalty that is sent to the provider after an informal dispute resolution process but before an administrative hearing.

(c) A provider to whom amelioration has been offered must file a plan for amelioration not later than the 45th day after the date the provider receives the offer of amelioration from the commission. In submitting the plan, the provider must agree to waive the provider’s right to an administrative hearing if the commission approves the plan.

(d) At a minimum, a plan for amelioration must:
   (1) propose changes to the management or operation of the waiver program in which the provider participates that will improve services to or quality of care for recipients under the program;
   (2) identify, through measurable outcomes, the ways in which and the extent to which the proposed changes will improve services to or quality of care for recipients under the waiver program;
   (3) establish clear goals to be achieved through the proposed changes;
   (4) establish a timeline for implementing the proposed changes; and
   (5) identify specific actions necessary to implement the proposed changes.

(e) The commission may require that an amelioration plan propose changes that would result in conditions that exceed the requirements of a law or rule relating to the waiver program in which the provider participates.

(f) The commission shall approve or deny an amelioration plan not later than the 45th day after the date the commission receives the plan. On approval of a provider’s plan, the commission or the State Office of Administrative Hearings, as appropriate, shall deny a pending request for a hearing submitted by the provider.

(g) The commission may not offer amelioration to a provider:
   (1) more than three times in a two-year period;
   (2) more than one time in a two-year period for the same or similar violation; or
   (3) for a violation that resulted in hazard to the health or safety of a recipient, including serious harm or death, or that substantially limits the provider’s ability to provide care.

(b) This section expires September 1, 2023.

Sec. 161.0892. Informal Dispute Resolution.

(a) The executive commissioner by rule shall establish an informal dispute resolution process in accordance with this section. The process must provide for adjudication by an appropriate disinterested person of disputes relating to a proposed enforcement action or related proceeding of the commission against a provider participating in a waiver program described by Section 161.089. The informal dispute resolution process must require:
(1) a provider participating in a waiver program described by Section 161.089 to request informal dispute resolution not later than the 10th calendar day after the date of notification by the commission of the violation of a law or rule relating to the program; and

(2) the commission to complete the process not later than the 30th calendar day after the date of receipt of a request from a provider for informal dispute resolution.

(b) As part of the informal dispute resolution process established under this section, the commission shall contract with an appropriate disinterested person to adjudicate disputes between a provider participating in a waiver program described by Section 161.089 and the commission concerning a statement of violations prepared by the commission. Section 2009.053, Government Code, does not apply to the selection of an appropriate disinterested person under this subsection. The person with whom the commission contracts shall adjudicate all disputes described by this subsection.

(c) The executive commissioner shall adopt rules to adjudicate claims in contested cases.

(d) The commission may not delegate its responsibility to administer the informal dispute resolution process established by this section to another state agency.

(1) that the minor, because of a mental or physical condition, will be substantially unable to provide for the minor's own food, clothing, or shelter, to care for the minor's own physical health, or to manage the individual's own financial affairs when the minor becomes an adult; and

(2) that a less restrictive alternative to guardianship is not available for the minor.

(b) The department shall conduct a thorough assessment of the conditions and circumstances of an elderly person or person with a disability referred to the department under Section 48.209(a)(2) for guardianship services to determine whether a guardianship is appropriate for the individual or whether a less restrictive alternative is available for the individual. In determining whether a guardianship is appropriate, the department may consider the resources and funds available to meet the needs of the elderly person or person with a disability. The executive commissioner shall adopt rules for the administration of this subsection.

(c) Subject to Subsection (c-1), if after conducting an assessment of an elderly person or person with a disability under Subsection (b) the department determines that:

(1) guardianship is appropriate for the elderly person or person with a disability, the department shall:

(2) a less restrictive alternative to guardianship is available for the elderly person or person with a disability, the department shall pursue the less restrictive...

If the department determines that an alternative person or program described by Section 161.102 is available to serve as guardian, the department shall refer the elderly person or person with a disability to that alternative person or program in a manner that would allow the alternative person or program sufficient time to file, not later than the 70th day after the date the department received the referral, an application to be appointed guardian.

(c-2) With the approval of the Department of Family and Protective Services, the department may extend, by not more than 30 days, a period prescribed by Subsection (c-1) if the extension is:

§ 401.464. Notification and Appeals Process

(a) The TXMHRM service system is dedicated to providing mental health and mental retardation services/supports which are viewed as satisfactory by persons receiving those services/supports and their legally authorized representatives. Therefore, local authorities and their contractors shall take steps to assure that these persons:

1. have a method to express their concerns or dissatisfaction;
2. are assisted to do so in a constructive way; and
3. have their concerns or dissatisfaction addressed through a review process.

(b) A request to review decisions described in this section may be made by the person requesting or receiving services/supports, the person's legal representative, or any other individual with the person's consent.

(c) At the time of admission into services and on an annual basis thereafter, the local authority and its contractors shall provide to persons who receive services/supports and their legally authorized representatives written notification in a language and/or method understood by the individual of the local authority or its contractor's policy for addressing concerns or dissatisfaction with services/supports. The notification shall explain:

1. an easily understood process for persons and legally authorized representatives to request a review of their concerns or dissatisfaction by the local authority or its contractor, whichever is appropriate;
2. how the person may receive assistance in requesting the review;
3. the timeframes for the review; and
4. the method by which the person is informed of the outcome of that review.

(d) Local authorities and their contractors shall notify persons and legally authorized representatives in writing in a language and/or method understood by the individual of the following decisions and of the process to appeal by requesting a review of those decisions:

1. a decision to deny the person services/supports at the conclusion of a local authority's procedure which determines whether the person meets the criteria for the priority population; and
2. a decision to terminate services/supports and follow-along from the local authority or its contractor, if appropriate.

(e) The written notification referred to in subsection (d) of this section must:

1. be given or mailed to the person and the legally authorized representative within ten working days of the date the decision was made;
2. state the reason for the decision;
3. explain that the person and legally authorized representative may contact either the local authority or its contractor, whichever is appropriate, within 30 days of receipt of notification if dissatisfied with the decision and request that the decision be reviewed in accordance with subsection (g) of this section; and
4. include name(s), phone number(s) and address(es) of one or more accessible staff to contact during office hours.

(f) If a person or legally authorized representative believes that the local authority or its contractor has made a decision to involuntarily reduce services by changing the amount, duration, or scope of services/supports provided and is dissatisfied with that decision, then the person may request in writing that the decision be reviewed in accordance with subsection (g) of this section.

(g) The review by the local authority or its contractor shall:

1. begin within ten working days of receipt of the request for a review and be completed within ten working days of the time it begins unless an extension is granted by the CEO of the local authority or its contractor, whichever is appropriate;
2. begin immediately upon receipt of the request and be completed within five working days if the decision is related to a crisis service;
3. be conducted by an individual(s) who was not involved in the initial decision;
4. include a review of the original decision which led to the person's dissatisfaction;
5. result in a decision to uphold, reverse, or modify the original decision; and
6. provide the person an opportunity to express his or her concerns in person or by telephone to the individual reviewing the decision. The review shall also allow the person to:

(A) have a representative talk with the reviewer;

(B) submit his or her concerns in writing, on tape, or in some other fashion.

(h) Following a review, either the local authority or its contractor, whichever is appropriate, shall explain to the person and legally authorized representative in writing and also in person or by telephone, if requested, the action it will take or, if no action will be taken, why it will not change the decision or believes such action would not be in the person's best interest. This is the final step in the review process.

(i) The notification and review process described in this section:

1. is applicable only to services/supports funded by TXMHR and provided or contracted for by its local authorities;
2. does not preclude a person or legally authorized representative's right to reviews, appeals, or other actions that accompany other funds administered through a local authority or its contractors, or to other appeals.

Persons receiving mental health services from department facilities, community centers, and psychiatric hospitals have the following rights.

(1) The rights, benefits, responsibilities, and privileges guaranteed by the constitutions and laws of the United States and the State of Texas unless they have been restricted by specific provisions of law. These rights include, but are not limited to, the right to impartial access to and provision of treatment, regardless of race, nationality, religion, sex, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, or disability; the right to

(2) The right to presumption of mental competency in the absence of a judicial determination to the contrary. Any questions regarding applicability of this right or a limitation on it should be referred for appropriate legal advice.

(3) The right to a humane treatment environment that ensures protection from harm, provides privacy to as great a degree as possible with regard to personal needs, and promotes respect and dignity for each individual.

(4) The right to appropriate treatment in the least restrictive appropriate setting available consistent with the protection of the individual and the protection of the community.

(5) The right to be informed of those rules and regulations of the department facility, community center, or psychiatric hospital relating to expectations of the individual's conduct. Staff must document in the medical record the date and manner in which this information was provided.

(6) The right to communication in a language and format understandable to the individual for all services provided.

(7) The right to participate actively in the development and periodic review of an individualized treatment plan (extending to a parent or conservator of a minor, and the legal guardian of the person, when applicable); and the right to a timely consideration of any request for the participation of any other person in this process, with the right to be informed of the reasons for any denial of such a request. Staff must document in the medical record that the parent, guardian, conservator, or other person was notified of the date, time, and location of each meeting so that he or she could participate.

(8) The right to explanations of the care, procedures, and treatment to be provided; the risks, side effects, and benefits of all medications and treatment procedures to be used, including those that are unusual or experimental; the alternative treatment procedures that are available; and the possible consequences of refusing the treatment or procedure. This right extends to the parent or conservator of a minor or the legal guardian of the person, if applicable. For individuals receiving inpatient services at department facilities, community centers, or other mental health facilities when those services are operated by the department or funded by the department through a contractual or other agreement, this right may only be limited in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 405, Subchapter FF of this title (relating to Consent to Treatment with Psychoactive Medication).

(21) The right to confidentiality of records and the right to be informed of the conditions under which information can be disclosed without the individual's consent. At department facilities and community centers, client-identifying information shall be disclosed in accordance with Chapter 403, Subchapter K of this title (relating to Client-Identifying Information). At psychiatric hospitals, client-identifying information shall be disclosed in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Health and Safety Code, §§ 576.005 and 611.001-611.005, and 42 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 2.

Department facilities and community centers should also reference Chapter 403, Subchapter K of this title (relating to Client-Identifying Information) regarding this right.

(A) Confidential information about another person who has not consented to the release shall be deleted from the record prior to its release, unless it is:

(i) information relating to the individual that another person has provided;

(ii) the identity of the person responsible for that information; or

(iii) the identity of any person who provided information that resulted in the individual's commitment.

(B) This right may be limited by a mental health professional if the professional determines that release of a portion of the information would be harmful to the individual's physical, mental, or emotional health.

(C) Any denial of access to information shall be in keeping with, documented, and reviewed regularly according to provisions outlined in the Texas Health and Safety Code, § 611.004 or § 611.0045. Community centers and psychiatric hospitals should develop and post procedures regarding protection and security of personal property of persons served.

(26) The right not to be secluded or have physical restraint applied to the individual unless it has been prescribed by a physician, except in emergency situations. If physical restraint or seclusion is utilized, the reason for the medical order, the length of time restraint or seclusion has been ordered, and the behaviors necessary for the individual to be removed from restraint or seclusion shall be explained to the individual, and the restraint or seclusion shall be discontinued as soon as possible. Department facilities and community centers should reference Chapter 405, Subchapter F of this title (relating to Restriction and Seclusion in Mental Health Facilities) for more information regarding this right.

(27) The right to fair compensation for labor performed for the department facility, community center, or psychiatric hospital in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act. Only physicians will perform body orifice searches.

(29) The right to be transported to, from, and between department facilities (including community-based services), community centers, and psychiatric hospitals in a way that protects the dignity and safety of the individual. This includes:

§ 404.155. Rights of Persons Receiving Residential Mental Health Services

(a) Personal rights.

(1) The following personal rights shall be provided to all persons receiving residential mental health services.

(A) The right to communicate with persons outside the department facility, community center, or psychiatric hospital, in keeping with the general rules of the facility, including:

(i) receiving visitors at reasonable times and places, allowing for as much privacy as possible;

(ii) making phone calls at reasonable times, allowing for as much privacy as possible; and

(iii) communicating by uncensored and sealed mail with others, except in the following situations:

(I) When there is reason to suspect that the mail contains items such as illicit drugs or weapons which may present imminent risk of harm to the individual or others, the treating physician may authorize observing the opening of the mail by writing a specific order into the individual's chart explaining the potential harm, the reason for suspicion, and what mail is to be opened. The mail may then be opened by the individual in the presence of two members of the individual's treatment team. After inspecting the mail and removing any items which might present imminent risk of harm to the individual or others, the mail shall be given to the individual; those observing the opening of the mail may not read it.

(II) If the individual is unable to open personal mail because of a physical limitation, a staff member may assist if documentation of the need for assistance is provided in the individual's record and if the individual requests or agrees to such assistance. An order authorizing this assistance must be signed by the treating physician and must be reviewed every seven days, except in the case of an individual with a chronic physical limitation, when the order may remain in effect until there is an improvement in the individual's condition. Other orders may be renewed as long as the condition exists. Staff members may offer to read mail to individuals unable to read because of illiteracy, blindness, or other reason, but staff members may not read the mail if the individual declines the offer.

(III) Employees may observe the opening of packages received by individuals deemed not capable of protecting personal property. An order authorizing this limitation must be signed by the treating physician and must be reviewed every seven days, except in the case of an individual with a chronic limitation, when the order must be reviewed at least every 30 days. A diagnosis of mental illness or mental retardation is not in itself considered a chronic limitation. Any cash or articles received shall be recorded in the individual's record and placed in appropriate safekeeping accessible to the individual.

(B) The right to keep and use personal possessions. This includes the right to wear one's own clothing and religious or other symbolic items. This right may be limited only if the use of the possession is determined by the treatment team to present imminent risk of harm, to present a security risk, or to prevent the individual from participating in the treatment plan. This includes the right to be free from searches of belongings except those searches based on reasonable belief that failure to search may present imminent risk of harm to the individual or others. A clinical justification must exist and be documented in the individual's record if access to or the use of any personal possession is limited or if a search of the individual's belongings is conducted.

(C) The right to have an opportunity for physical exercise and for going outdoors, with or without supervision, as clinically indicated, at least daily. A physician's order limiting this right must be reviewed and renewed if necessary, at intervals no longer than every three days and the findings of the review must be documented in the individual's record.

(D) The right to have access, with or without supervision, as clinically indicated, to appropriate areas of the campus of the department facility, community MHMR center, or psychiatric hospital away from the individual's living unit, including, but not limited to, recreation and canteen/snack areas. The access should be available as frequently as the individual's clinical condition and schedule of therapeutic activities allow.

(E) The right to have opportunities for suitable interactions with individuals of the opposite sex, with or without supervision, as appropriate for the individual.

(2) For persons receiving inpatient services, the exercise of these rights may be limited by the treating physician only to the extent that the restriction is necessary to maintain the individual's physical and/or emotional well-being or to protect another person. If a restriction is imposed, the treating physician shall document the reasons for the restriction and the duration of the restriction in the individual's record. Unless otherwise specified, the written order must be reviewed...
within seven days, and if renewed, it must be renewed in writing at intervals no greater than every seven days. The treatment team should consider strategies to help the individual regain or resume the practice of the right.

(A) A physician or physician’s designee shall inform the individual of the clinical reasons for the restriction and its duration as soon as possible. The parent/conservator of a minor or the legal guardian of an individual, if applicable, shall also be informed of the restriction and its duration as appropriate.

(B) The right to communicate with legal counsel, the department, the courts, or the state attorney general may not be restricted. Except for the general rules of the program, there is no provision for limiting these rights for persons voluntarily admitted to a residential program other than an inpatient unit.

(b) Additional rights. In addition to the rights outlined in subsection (a) of this section, persons receiving residential mental health services shall also have the following rights.

(1) The right to have unrestricted visits from attorneys, internal advocates, representatives of Advocacy, Inc. with the consent of the person served, private physicians, or other mental health professionals at reasonable times and places. At department facilities, this right shall also include unrestricted visits from public responsibility committee members at reasonable times and places.

(1) When a written request for release is presented to any direct care staff of the department facility, community center, or psychiatric hospital, it should be signed, dated, and timed by the individual or a person legally responsible for the individual.

(2) If an individual informs a person associated with or employed by the department facility, community center, or psychiatric hospital of the individual’s desire to leave, the employee or person shall, as soon as possible, assist the individual in creating the written request and present it to the individual to sign, date, and time. Without regard to whether the individual agrees to sign paperwork requesting discharge from services, the request will be documented and processed by staff. The refusal or inability of the individual to sign the request for discharge will be documented on the unsigned written request.

(3) All written or prepared requests for discharge will be timed, dated, and signed by the staff member, who shall provide information to the individual that pursuant to law, during the ensuing period of up to 24 hours, the individual will be observed and evaluated to determine the clinical appropriateness of seeking an involuntary commitment to services. The form and format for requesting release and the information to be provided may be prescribed by the department.

(b) All persons voluntarily admitted to inpatient services for treatment of mental illness or chemical dependency have the right to be discharged within four hours of a request for release unless the individual’s treating physician (or another physician if the treating physician is not available) determines that there is cause to believe that the individual might meet the criteria for court-ordered mental health services or emergency detention.

The judge or a magistrate appointed by the judge may, by written order made each day, extend the period during which the individual may be detained until 4 p.m. on the next succeeding business day.

(c) All persons voluntarily admitted to inpatient services for treatment of mental illness or chemical dependency have the right not to have an application for court-ordered mental health or chemical dependency services filed while receiving voluntary services unless, in the opinion of the physician responsible for the individual’s treatment, the individual meets the criteria for court-ordered services as outlined in the Texas Health and Safety Code, § 573.022, and either:

Although under special circumstances set out in this subchapter, certain rights can be limited without informed consent, it is usually mandatory and always preferable to obtain informed consent when limitation of rights is contemplated.

(b) Except as otherwise noted in this subchapter, written informed consent must be obtained when a right guaranteed by law or department rule is limited.

1. The patient or legally authorized representative gives informed consent. Written informed consent is obtained from the:
   (A) adult individual, if legally competent and deemed to be capable of understanding the required elements which constitute informed consent;
   (B) guardian of the person of the adult individual if there has been a determination of mental incompetence by a court; or
   (C) parent or managing conservator of a minor under the age of 16.

2. Informed consent must be documented. Written informed consent is evidenced by a completed copy of the department’s form for “Consent to Behavior Intervention,” referenced as Exhibit A. Psychiatric hospitals and CSUs may use a different form provided that it includes all of the information included in the “Consent to Behavior Intervention” form.

3. Informed consent may be withdrawn at any time. If informed consent is withdrawn, the program must be discontinued immediately, and the treatment team must meet within three working days to modify the individual’s treatment plan. Withdrawal of consent may be in any form including, but not limited to, passive noncompliance, active resistance, or a verbal or other expression of unwillingness to continue participating in any aspect of the program.

4. The limitation of the right or rights must be reviewed by the physician as appropriate but must occur at least on a monthly basis, unless otherwise specified.

5. Informed consent must be renewed. Written informed consent must be reviewed and renewed every six months.

6. Any limitation on rights is included as a part of the individual’s comprehensive treatment plan. The treatment plan also includes a program that emphasizes positive approaches and uses positive behavioral interventions.

7. It is prohibited for limitation on rights to be used:
   (1) in retribution, as punishment, or as a means of controlling an individual by eliciting fear;
   (2) for the convenience of staff or as a consequence of insufficient staff;
   (3) as a substitute for a comprehensive treatment plan; or
   (4) in the absence of positive behavioral interventions.

8. Any limitation on rights will not:
   (1) deprive an individual of a basic human need (e.g., a bed at night, food, personal clothing, etc.) or the essentials of a normal hospital environment; or
   (2) alter the texture of a food item or use techniques that could result in failure to provide a nutritionally adequate diet. Foods used as edible reinforcers within a behavior intervention program are evaluated by the treatment team, including a qualified dietitian and physician, with consideration of the individual’s nutritional status, needs, and preferences.

9. Additional approval required. Written informed consent must be obtained for behavior intervention programs using highly restrictive interventions. Additionally, the use of any procedures or programs employing aversive techniques, such as, but not limited to, faradic stimulation, require the unanimous documented written approval of the medical director of the facility, the CEO, and the Ethics Committee.

Subchapter E. Electroconvulsive Therapy (ECT)

§ 405.101. Purpose

The purpose of this subchapter is:

(1) to establish uniform procedures for informed consent to ECT;

(2) to establish statewide reporting requirements for the use of ECT and other procedures;

(3) to establish statewide registration requirements for ECT equipment;

(4) to prohibit the use of ECT in persons under 16 years of age;

(6) to provide explicit safeguards for patients in all facilities of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, community mental health and mental retardation centers, private inpatient psychiatric hospitals licensed by the Texas Department of Health under the Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 577, and psychiatric units of hospitals licensed by the Texas Department of Health under the Texas Health and Safety Code, Chapter 241, by:

(A) establishing appropriate limits for the therapeutic utilization of electroconvulsive therapy;

(B) establishing current guidelines of the American Psychiatric Association and the Food and Drug Administration as the references of choice in questions of practice related to ECT, except to the extent that they conflict with the provisions of the Health and Safety Code, Title 7, Subtitle C, Chapter 578; and

(C) prohibiting the use of chemical or gaseous agents for convulsive therapy except as a research procedure conducted in accordance with Subchapter Q of this chapter (relating to Departmental Procedures for the Protection of Human Subjects Involved in Research).

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 405.101 adopted to be effective January 1, 1992, 16 TexReg 7528; amended to be effective December 10, 1993, 18 TexReg 8780

§ 405.104. General Requirements

(a) Only a physician licensed to practice medicine in Texas may administer ECT and a physician may not delegate the act of administering the therapy to a nonphysician who administers ECT is considered to be practicing medicine in violation of the Medical Practice Act, Texas Civil Statutes, Article 4495b.

(b) No person under the age of 16 shall receive ECT.

(c) Prior to receiving ECT, every patient, voluntary or involuntary, competent or incompetent, shall be given full explanation of ECT consistent with the definition of ECT in § 405.103 of this title (relating to Definitions) and meeting the requirements of § 405.108 of this title (relating to Informed Consent to ECT).

(d) If any patient, without regard to competency, objects to ECT and there is an alternative method of treatment (that is not contraindicated and which has a reasonable potential for success) to which the patient does not object, the alternative method shall be considered and, if mutually acceptable to the patient or the guardian of the person of the patient and the treating physician, shall be used. It is not to be inferred, however, that ECT should be held as a treatment of “last resort.” Full documentation of the factors considered in arriving at the decision to use ECT, the consent...
§ 405.105. Indications and Contraindications for the Use of Electroconvulsive Therapy (ECT)

(a) The major indications for the therapeutic use of ECT are major mood disorders. ECT may be considered for some other disorders, with appropriate consideration of the risk/benefit ratio.

2. relative, requiring clinical consideration:
   A. cardiovascular disease, including arrhythmias, myocardial disease, or coronary artery disease;
   B. diseases which render a patient likely to suffer hemorrhage, including peptic ulcer, subdural hematoma, and aortic aneurysm;
   C. degenerative diseases of the central nervous system;
   D. glaucoma although it is recognized that intraocular pressure is not increased by ECT, and is, in fact, reduced during the seizure period, medications used adjunctively to the treatment may result in increased intraocular pressure. For patients with glaucoma, consideration should be given to pretreatment with physostigmine;
   E. severe orthopedic disability.

§ 533.0358. Local Network Development

(a) Use of resources. An LMHA must maximize funds available to provide services by minimizing overhead and administrative costs and achieving purchasing efficiencies. Strategies that an LMHA must consider in achieving this objective include joint efforts with other local authorities related to authority functions, administrative activities, and service delivery.

(b) Establishing a network. Each LMHA must demonstrate a reasonable effort to establish and maintain a network of qualified providers. In developing the network, the LMHA must consider public input, ultimate cost-benefit, and client care issues to ensure individual choice and best use of public funds.

(c) Developing a plan. Each LMHA must develop a biennial (2-year) local network development plan (plan) to guide the development of the LMHAs provider network. The plan must reflect local needs and priorities and must be designed to maximize individual choice and individual access to services provided by qualified providers. The plan is a framework for network development based on a biennial assessment of provider availability and is not intended to limit procurement and contracting. LMHAs are expected to consider opportunities for network development that develop between planning periods. Such opportunities include new funding and/or services and inquiries from interested providers.

(d) Involving the PNAC. The local PNAC must be actively involved in developing the plan. The local PNAC must receive information and training related to Provider Network Development, including the provisions of this subchapter and Health and Safety Code § 533.035, § 533.03521, and § 533.03558.

§ 412.756. Department Website

(a) Website maintenance. The department shall maintain a website with information about network development.

(b) Planning schedule and templates. Using input from the Local Authority Network Advisory Committee, the department will develop a biennial schedule and templates for the local network development plan and provider profile. In addition, the department will work with the LANAC to develop a list of measures that may be helpful in stabilizing the provider network and ensuring continuous delivery of services.

(c) LMHA information. The department shall post minimum service requirements and service capacity information for each local service area on its website. Service capacity information includes:

1. The performance contract targets for the number of adults and children to be served by the LMHA;
2. The current state funding allocation for the LMHA;
3. The number of individuals served in each level of care in the previous fiscal year; and
4. The demographic breakout of individuals services in the previous fiscal year.

(d) List of interested provider organizations. The department shall create and maintain a list showing the provider organizations interested in contracting with each LMHA.

If the LMHA relies on this condition, the department shall require the LMHA to submit copies of relevant agreements.

(6) The LMHA documents that it is necessary for the LMHA to provide specified services during the two-year period covered by the LMHA's plan to preserve critical infrastructure needed to ensure continuous provision of services. An LMHA relying on this condition must:

(A) document that it has evaluated a range of other measures to ensure continuous delivery of services, including but not limited to those identified by the LANAC and the department at the beginning of each planning cycle;

(B) document implementation of appropriate other measures;

(C) identify a timeframe for transitioning to an external provider network, during which the LMHA shall procure an increasing proportion of the service capacity from external provider in successive procurement cycles; and

(D) give up its role as a service provider at the end of the transition period if the network has multiple external providers and the LMHA determines that external providers are willing and able to provide sufficient added service volume within a reasonable period of time to compensate for service volume lost should any one of the external provider contracts be terminated.

§ 412.755. Conditions Permitting LMHA Service Delivery

An LMHA may only provide services if one or more of the following conditions is present.

1. The LMHA determines that interested, qualified providers are not available to provide services in the LMHA's service area or that no providers meet procurement specifications.

2. The network of external providers does not provide the minimum level of individual choice. A minimal level of individual choice is present if individuals and their legally authorized representatives can choose from two or more qualified providers.

3. The network of external providers does not provide individuals with access to services that is equal to or better than the level of access in the local network, including services provided by the LMHA, as of a date determined by the department. An LMHA relying on this condition must submit the information necessary for the department to verify the level of access.

4. The combined volume of services delivered by external providers is not sufficient to meet 100 percent of the LMHA's service capacity for each level of care identified in the LMHA's plan.

5. Existing agreements restrict the LMHA's ability to contract with external providers for specific services during the two-year period covered by the LMHA's plan.
as conclusive evidence of the existence of interested, qualified provider organizations for purposes of determining that procurement is required.

(e) Public access to plans. The department’s website must provide public access to approved plans.

§ 412.757. Network Development Evaluation

An LMHA shall evaluate the potential for network development.

1. The LMHA must seek and use available information to identify and contact potential provider organizations, including the list of interested provider organizations posted on the department’s website.

2. The LMHA must also consider current contractors, providers who have contacted the LMHA within the past two years, and other service providers in the local service area.

3. If a provider has submitted printed or electronic documentation of interest, the LMHA may not eliminate the provider from consideration during the planning process without evidence that the provider:
   (A) is no longer interested; or
   (B) is clearly not qualified or capable of providing services in accordance with applicable state and local laws and regulations.

4. The potential for network development exists if an LMHA has one or more provider organizations interested in providing routine outpatient or specialized services.

5. If an LMHA identifies the potential for network development, it must develop a procurement plan. The plan shall include all opportunities for network development, except as limited by the conditions listed in § 412.755 of this title (relating to Conditions Permitting LMHA Service Delivery). This includes opportunities to add new services, new provider organizations, and/or additional capacity. An LMHA may choose to procure discrete services if it can ensure the integrity of levels of care and effective service coordination.

§ 412.758. Content of the Plan

(a) Plan preparation. An LMHA must use the results of its network development evaluation described in § 412.757 of this title (relating to Network Development Evaluation) to create its draft plan.

(b) Plan content applicable to all LMHAs. All plans must include the following components.

1. The LMHA’s projected service capacity for each level of care based on service data from the previous fiscal year for services provided under the performance contract and any information about changes that will impact the service capacity.

2. Baseline data specified by the department showing the type and quantity of services provided by the LMHA and by external providers.

3. A description of the process the LMHA used to evaluate the potential for network development and the results of that evaluation, including any information relating to specific services or populations.

4. A list of the LMHA’s external providers, including all current contractors and any other providers with whom the LMHA had a contract or agreement in effect during any part of the current or previous fiscal year. The list shall include the number of contracts and agreements with individual peer support providers, but not the names of individual peer support providers without their written consent.

(c) Plan content for LMHAs with potential for network development. If an LMHA identifies the potential for network development, the plan must also include the following elements.

1. A description of the LMHA’s plans for procurement, including:
   (A) the adult and children’s services to be procured;
   (B) the capacity to be procured for each service;
   (C) the geographic area(s) in which services would be procured;
   (D) the procurement method(s) to be used; and
   (E) the timeline(s) for conducting the procurement.

2. The rationale for any provision that would limit individual choice or prevent procurement of all available capacity offered by external provider organizations.

   (A) The rationale must address any proposed restrictions on: (i) the type of service to be procured; (ii) the volume of services to be procured; (iii) the geographic area in which services would be procured; or (iv) the number of providers to be accepted.

   (B) The rationale for limiting procurement must be based on one or more of the conditions identified in § 412.755 of this title (relating to Conditions Permitting LMHA Service Delivery).

   (C) The rationale must provide a basis for the proposed level of restriction, including the volume of services to be provided by the LMHA. An LMHA may be required to submit additional data to support its rationale.

3. A description of the strategies the LMHA would use to maximize funds available to provide services, as required in § 412.754(c) of this title (relating to Local Network Development).

4. A summary of procurement activities from past network and development planning cycles and the results of those efforts.

5. If an LMHA is not procuring all available capacity offered by external provider organizations, the timeframe and steps for achieving full procurement of the external provider capacity identified in its network development evaluation, not to exceed the LMHA’s capacity.

§ 412.759. Public Comment

(a) Distributing the draft plan. An LMHA shall post the draft plan on its website and invite public comment for at least 30 days. The LMHA shall send notice of the opportunity to comment to key stakeholders, including local consumer and advocacy groups, all licensed psychiatric hospitals in the LMHA’s service area, and all providers identified in its network development evaluation.

(b) Responding to public comment. The LMHA shall acknowledge and consider all comments received and make any revisions it deems appropriate.

(c) Plan submission. The LMHA shall submit its proposed plan to the department with:

   (1) a summary of the public comments received; and

(e) Provider standards. An LMHA shall not apply more rigorous standards and requirements to external providers than it applies to its own programs and staff. This does not preclude the LMHA from requiring documentation and reporting necessary to verify compliance with the terms of the contract.

(f) Provider compensation. An LMHA shall pay external providers a fair and reasonable rate in relation to the local prevailing market.

(g) Monitoring and enforcement. An LMHA shall implement effective procedures for contract monitoring and enforce the requirements set out in applicable rules and contract provisions. Examples include standards for service delivery, cultural and linguistic competency, and consumer protections.

§ 412.763. Appeals

(1) is available to any provider who submitted a written statement of interest or participated in any phase of the procurement process; and
(2) includes an opportunity for informal review and resolution as well as a formal appeal procedure.
(b) Department review. If an issue cannot be resolved at the local level and involves an alleged violation by the LMHA of a state rule or contract provision, either the LMHA or the provider may submit the issue to the department in writing for review. Potential actions that may be taken by the department shall be defined in the performance contract. The decision of the Commissioner or his designee will be final.

§412.764. Individual Selection of Providers
(a) Individual choice. An LMHA shall give consumers the opportunity to choose from any available provider in the LMHA's provider network offering services for which the individual is authorized at the time of admission and at least annually thereafter:
(b) Changing providers. Individuals may request and change providers at any time.
(c) Provider information. An LMHA shall maintain a current list of providers and a provider profile for each provider in the network, including the LMHA, on its website. The LMHA's website must also provide instructions for requesting a change in providers as described in §401.464 of this title (relating to Notification and Appeals Processes).
(1) The provider list must include the following information about each provider:
(A) name;
(B) service locations and the services provided at each location; and
(C) contact information, including the provider's website address.
(2) The provider profile is a standardized form completed by the provider, may include information such as staffing patterns, special features of service delivery, and cultural and linguistic specialization. An LMHA shall use the provider profile template established by the department at the beginning of the planning cycle. The LMHA may add additional items to the provider profile based on input from the local PNAC. The LMHA shall inform individuals, verbally and in writing, that they may choose to receive services from any available provider in the LMHA's network that offers the authorized services. The LMHA shall also provide individuals with a neutral presentation of available providers consistent with the plan to support consumer transition to the external network described in subsection (f) of this section. When an individual is given the opportunity to choose a provider, the LMHA shall:
(1) state that the individual may change providers at any time;
(2) give the individual the provider list, provider profiles, and a written copy of the procedures for requesting a change in providers;
(3) allow a reasonable period of time and make an area available for the individual to review the materials and make a decision; and
(4) maintain documentation of the individual's choice of provider.
(e) An LMHA shall not offer or schedule services before the individual selects a provider. If an individual is unable to select a provider or does not select a provider before leaving the first appointment, the LMHA shall provide the consumer with an appointment for ongoing services at an assigned provider. Except as provided in subsection (f) of this section, assignments shall rotate equally among all available external providers. In this situation, the LMHA shall also provide the individual with information about how to have the appointment rescheduled with a different provider.
(f) External network transition plan. The LMHA shall develop and implement a plan to promote consumer transition to the external network when a new provider joins the network.
(1) The plan shall be developed with input from the LMHA's PNAC, any local consumer-operated organization, and its external providers.
(2) LMHAs may emphasize benefits of receiving services from an external provider, but shall not favor one provider over another except to identify service sites that may be more convenient for a client.
(3) The plan may include reassigning consumers to external providers based on geographic proximity, but must give them the option of choosing a different provider instead.
(4) The plan may include directing new individuals to choose an external provider, but must give them the option of choosing an LMHA service site instead.

§ 414.406. Patients Admitted under Texas Statutes

(a) Psychoactive medications will not be administered to patients admitted to a mental health facility under the voluntary provisions of the Texas Health and Safety Code (THSC) or detained at a mental health facility under the THSC emergency detention or order of protective custody (OPC) provisions without informed consent from the patient or the patient’s legally authorized representative unless the patient is in a psychiatric emergency and medication is administered as provided in § 414.410 of this title (relating to Psychiatric Emergencies).

(b) If an adult under a protective custody order as provided by THSC, Chapter 574, Subchapter B, is a ward, the guardian of the person of the ward may consent to the administration of psychoactive medication as prescribed by the ward’s treating physician regardless of the ward’s expressed preferences regarding treatment with psychoactive medication.

Psychoactive medications will not be administered to patients committed to a mental health facility under an order for temporary or extended mental health services if the patient or the patient’s legally authorized representative refuses the medication unless:

1. the patient is in a psychiatric emergency and medication is administered as provided in § 414.410 of this title (relating to Psychiatric Emergencies);
2. the patient does not have a legally authorized representative and the administration of the medication, regardless of the patient’s refusal, is authorized by an order as outlined in THSC §§ 574.101 - 574.110; or
3. the patient is a ward who is 18 years of age or older and the guardian of the person of the ward consents to the administration of psychoactive medication regardless of the ward’s expressed preferences regarding treatment with psychoactive medication.

§ 414.408. Patients Committed to Mental Health Facilities under Provisions Other than Those Found in the Texas Health and Safety Code (i.e., Code of Criminal Procedure, Family Code)

(a) The decision to administer medication to a patient committed to a TDMHMR mental health facility under provisions other than THSC § 574.034 or § 574.035 must be consistent with the holding in Sell v. United States, 123 S.Ct. 2174 (2003).

(b) Nothing in this section is intended to preclude the administration of psychoactive medication to any patient in a psychiatric emergency as provided for in § 414.410 of this title (relating to Psychiatric Emergencies).

§ 414.409. Involuntary Administration of Medication to Patients Committed to Mental Health Facilities under the Texas Health and Safety Code or by Court Order

(a) The physician will order medications administered involuntarily under § 414.407 of this title (relating to Patients Committed to Mental Health Facilities under Provisions of the Texas Health and Safety Code) or § 414.411 of this title (relating to Order Authorizing Administration of Psychoactive Medication) to be given by the method most acceptable to the patient, if clinically appropriate.

(b) The authority to administer a medication involuntarily to a patient under § 414.407 or § 414.411 of this title includes the authority to obtain evaluations and laboratory tests necessary to safely administer the medication.

§ 414.410. Psychiatric Emergencies

(a) Nothing in this subchapter is intended to preclude the administration of psychoactive medication to any patient in a psychiatric emergency.

(b) If a physician issues an order to administer psychoactive medication to a patient without the patient’s consent because of a psychiatric emergency, then the physician will document in the patient’s clinical record in specific medical or behavioral terms:

1. why the order is necessary;
2. other generally accepted, less intrusive forms of treatment, if any, that the physician has evaluated but rejected; and
3. the reasons those treatments were rejected.

(c) Treatment of the patient with the psychoactive medication will be provided in the manner, consistent with clinically appropriate medical care, least restrictive of the patient’s personal liberty.

(d) A brief physical hold is not considered restraint for purposes of this subchapter provided that:

1. the individual currently exhibits behavior that meets the definition of psychiatric emergency as defined in this subchapter, or the individual is currently under a court order allowing the facility to administer medication without consent of the individual, the individual is refusing medication, and the medication ordered is permitted by the court order;
2. the purpose of administering medication is active treatment to reduce symptoms of a diagnosed mental illness;
3. using medication to reduce specified symptoms of a diagnosed mental illness is standard clinical practice;
4. the specific medication and dosage ordered can be clinically justified as in keeping with standard clinical practice and are appropriate for reduction of specified target symptoms; and
5. the physical hold is terminated as soon as the medication is administered.

(e) When the psychiatric emergency is no longer imminent or present, medication prescribed without consent on an emergency basis must be safely discontinued. If con-
continued use of medication is recommended on a regular basis, the physician must comply with provisions outlined in §414.406 of this title (relating to Patients Admitted Under Texas Statutes), §414.407 of this title (relating to Patients Committed to Mental Health Facilities Under Provisions of the Texas Health and Safety Code), or §414.408 of this title (relating to Patients Committed to Mental Health Facilities under Provisions Other Than Those Found in the Texas Health and Safety Code (i.e., Code of Criminal Procedure, Family Code)), as appropriate.

(f) In no case may inappropriate designation of a situation as a psychiatric emergency be used to circumvent the process of obtaining consent or applying to the court for an order authorizing administration of psychoactive medication.

§414.411. Order Authorizing Administration of Psychoactive Medication

(a) Filing of Petition. A physician who is treating a patient may petition a probate court or a court with probate jurisdiction for an order to authorize the administration of a class or classes of psychoactive medication regardless of the patient’s refusal:

(1) if the physician believes that the patient lacks the capacity to make a decision regarding the administration of the psychoactive medication;
(2) if the physician determines that the medication is the proper course of treatment for the patient; and
(3) if the patient is under an order for temporary or extended mental health services under THSC § 576.034 or §574.039 and the patient, verbally or by other indication, refuses to take the medication voluntarily.

(B) the patient’s religious beliefs;
(C) the risks and benefits, from the perspective of the patient, of taking psychoactive medication;
(D) the consequences to the patient if the psychoactive medication is not administered;

(F) alternatives to treatment with psychoactive medication.

(3) An order entered under this subsection shall authorize the administration to a patient, regardless of the patient’s refusal, of one or more classes of psychoactive medications specified in the petition and consistent with the patient’s diagnosis. The order shall permit:

(A) an increase or decrease in a medication’s dosage;
(B) reinstatement of medication authorized but discontinued during the period the order is valid; or
(C) the substitution of a medication within the same medication class.

(4) The issuance of an order authorizing administration of psychoactive medication is not a determination or adjudication of mental incompetency and does not limit in any other respect the patient’s rights as a citizen or the patient’s property rights or legal capacity.

(d) Rights of patients.

(1) A patient for whom an application for an order to authorize the administration of a psychoactive medication is filed is entitled to:

(A) representation by a court-appointed attorney who is knowledgeable about issues to be adjudicated at the hearing;

(F) request from the court an independent expert; and
(G) oral notification, at the conclusion of the hearing, of the court’s determinations of the patient’s capacity and best interests.

(2) A patient may appeal an order under this subchapter in the manner provided by THSC § 574.070 for appeal of an order requiring court-ordered mental health services. The order authorizing the administration of psychoactive medication remains effective pending the appeal.

(e) Review and expiration of order.

(1) An order authorizing the administration of psychoactive medication expires on the expiration or termination date of the order for temporary or extended mental health services in effect when the order for psychoactive medication is issued.

(2) An order authorizing the administration of medication shall be reviewed by the court on an annual basis.

§414.412. Designation of Medication Classes

(a) TDMHMR will maintain an updated list of psychoactive medication classes to be used by the court. The list will be revised and distributed at least annually or more frequently as needed and will include the most common psychoactive medications. The list will be available from the Office of the Medical Director, TDMHMR, and on the TDMHMR website, www.mhmr.state.tx.us (Office of the Medical Director).

(b) As provided by §414.411(c)(1) of this title (relating to Order Authorizing Administration of Psychoactive Medication), the court will only approve classes of medications unless the specific medication appears in the other category on the list or is not on the list and:

(E) If the research proposal is approved, the ORA is notified in writing of the CEO's and IRB's approval including copies of the IRB's meeting minutes concerning the review of the proposal, the proposal itself, and the CEO's and IRB's documentation of approval.

(4) Central Office IRB as a facility's designated IRB for research studies involving multiple facilities. When a facility's CEO requests that the Central Office IRB act as its designated IRB for a research study involving multiple facilities, pursuant to §414.755(c) of this title, then the research review and documentation process is generally as follows.

(A) The research proposal is reviewed and approved by:

(i) each facility CEO;

(ii) the Central Office IRB; and

(iii) the appropriate Central Office director(s), (i.e., director of state mental health facilities or director of state mental retardation facilities).

(B) If the research proposal is approved by the facility CEOs, the Central Office IRB, and the appropriate Central Office director(s), the ORA is notified in writing of the approval, including copies of the IRB's meeting minutes concerning the review of the proposal, the proposal itself, and documentation of approval of the CEOs and the Central Office IRB.

(f) In addition to approval by the designated IRB and facility CEO, review and approval by the TDMMHR medical director is required for any research proposal involving:

1. a placebo as the primary medication therapy;
2. medication or doses of medication as the primary medication therapy which are known to be ineffective for the targeted disorder or condition; or
3. an investigational medication or device.
§ 414.758. Informed Consent

Requirements for approval of proposed research.

(1) The procedures for obtaining and documenting informed consent meet the requirements in 45 CFR § 46.116 and § 46.117, referenced as Exhibit a in § 414.765 of this title (relating to Exhibits), and adequately address:

(A) any extension of the subject's length of stay at the facility as a result of participation in the research;

(B) if the research involves an investigational medication or device, the subject's ability to receive the medication or device after the research has concluded;

(C) whether the research involves the use of a placebo and the likelihood of assignment to the placebo condition;

(D) whether the research involves medication or doses of medication which are known to be ineffective for the targeted disorder or condition and the likelihood of assignment to such medication or doses of medication; and

(E) any risk of deterioration in the subject's condition and the potential consequences of such deterioration (e.g., an extension in the length of stay, the use of interventions such as restraint, seclusion, or emergency medications).

(2) For research protocols that present greater than minimal risk, there are procedures to ensure prospective human subjects are adequately assessed for capacity to consent and:

(A) provide for a qualified professional, who is independent of the research study, to assess prospective human subjects for capacity to consent;

(B) describe who will conduct the assessments; and

(C) describe the nature of the assessment and justification if less formal procedures to assess capacity will be used.

(3) If minors are the proposed human subjects, the requirements in 45 CFR § 46.408 (concerning Requirements for Permission by Parents or Guardians and for Assent by Children) have been met.

(4) There are procedures to ensure that:

(A) before obtaining consent, each prospective human subject or the subject's LAR understands the information provided; and

(B) if consent is obtained from the subject's LAR, attempts are made, to the extent possible given the prospective subject's capacity, to obtain the subject's assent to participation.

(5) There are adequate safeguards to minimize the possibility of coercion or undue influence. For example, the possible advantages of the subject's participation in the research may not be so valuable as to impair the subject's ability to weigh the risks of the research against those advantages. Possible advantages within the limited choice environment of a facility may include enhancement of general living conditions, medical care, quality of food, or amenities; opportunity for earnings; or change in commitment status.

(6) There are procedures to ensure that a prospective human subject's objection to enrollment in research or a human subject's objection to continued participation in a research protocol is heeded in all circumstances, regardless of whether the subject or the subject's LAR has given consent. Objection may be conveyed verbally, in writing, behaviorally, or by other indications or means. The procedures may, however, provide for a key researcher, with approval of the LAR (if appropriate) and acting with a level of sensitivity to avoid the possibility or the appearance of coercion, to approach an individual who has previously objected to ascertain whether the individual has changed his/her mind or to approach an individual who has not given consent to ascertain whether the individual wants to enroll in the research protocol.

(7) Because informed consent is an ongoing process, there are procedures to ensure that, throughout the course of the research study, human subjects' comprehension and capacity are assessed and enhanced.

§ 414.759. Research Involving Offenders as Human Subjects

(a) Definition of offender. “Offender” means any individual involuntarily confined or detained in a penal institution, including:

(1) individuals sentenced to a penal institution under criminal or civil statute;

(2) individuals detained in other facilities by virtue of statutes or commitment procedures that provide alternatives to criminal prosecution or incarceration in a penal institution; and

(3) individuals detained pending arraignment, trial, or sentencing.

(b) IRB membership. In addition to the requirements in § 414.755(d) of this title (relating to Designated Institutional Review Board (IRB)), membership of an IRB that will review proposed research involving offenders or alleged offenders as human subjects must include at least one member who is an offender advocate or representative with appropriate background and experience to serve in that capacity.

(c) Permitted research. Research at a facility may involve offenders or alleged offenders as human subjects only if, in the judgment of the designated IRB, the proposed research involves solely the following:

(1) study of the possible causes, effects, and processes of criminal commitment or criminal confinement, or of criminal behavior, provided that the study presents no more than minimal risk and no more than inconvenience to the subjects;

(2) study of facilities as institutional structures or of individuals criminally committed to a facility, provided that the study presents no more than minimal risk and no more than inconvenience to the subjects;

(3) research on conditions particularly affecting individuals criminally committed to a facility as a class; or

(4) research on treatments or practices, both innovative and accepted, which have the intent and reasonable probability of improving the health or well-being of the subjects.

1. conforms with the requirements of 45 CFR § 164.508; and
2. if the research includes treatment, includes a statement that the subject's right to access his or her PHI created or obtained during the course of research may be temporarily suspended for as long as the research is in progress, and will be reinstated upon completion of the research.

(b) During the review of proposed research, the designated IRB has the authority to approve a waiver or alteration of the authorization requirement in accordance with 45 CFR § 164.512(i).

(c) The designated IRB has the authority to approve the use or disclosure of PHI for purposes preparatory to research if the IRB obtains from the researcher adequate representations as required by 45 CFR § 164.512(i)(ii).

(d) For a research study approved prior to April 14, 2003, the PHI of a human subject participating in the study may be used or disclosed for the research study if one of the following was obtained prior to April 14, 2003:

1. an authorization or other express legal permission from the subject or the subject's LAR to use or disclose PHI for the research study;
2. informed consent of the subject to participate in the research study or informed consent from the subject's LAR for the subject to participate in the research study; or
3. a waiver of informed consent by the designated IRB for the research study.

(b) Reports of alleged misconduct in science are made to the ORA, who shall ensure that:

1. each allegation is reviewed and investigated by an appropriate entity in accordance with 42 CFR Part 50, Subpart A, referenced as Exhibit C in § 414.762 of this title (relating to Exhibits);

(c) Accepted guidelines, as defined in § 415.3 of this title (relating to Definitions) supplement the use of this subchapter.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.1 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.2. Application

In cases in which none are formally approved, current professionally recognized clinical guidelines or approved standards of care are considered the accepted guidelines.

(2) Child psychiatrist—A physician who is certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and holds a subspecialty certificate in child and adolescent psychiatry, or who is board eligible, i.e., has an active approved application on file in the board office, or who is currently in training in an approved residency and is supervised by a board eligible or board-certified child and adolescent psychiatrist.

(3) DSM—The current edition of The Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders published by the American Psychiatric Press.

(4) Legally authorized representative (LAR)—A person authorized by law to act on behalf of an individual with regard to a matter described in this subchapter, who may be a parent, guardian, or managing conservator of a minor, or the guardian of an adult.

(6) Medication error—Any preventable event that may cause or lead to inappropriate medication use or patient harm while the medication is in the control of the health care professional.

(7) Physician—A doctor of medicine or osteopathy who holds a current license or institutional permit to practice medicine in Texas.

(9) Polypharmacy—Concurrent use of more than one psychoactive medication having identical or very similar mechanisms of action.

(10) Prescribing professional—A physician or other health care professional who, as authorized by statute, may prescribe under the supervision of a physician.

(11) PRN—As needed (pro re nata).

(12) Psychiatric emergency—A situation in which, in the opinion of the physician, it is immediately necessary to administer medication to a patient to ameliorate the signs and symptoms of that patient’s mental illness and to prevent:

(A) imminent probable death or substantial bodily harm to the patient because the patient:

(i) overtly or continually is threatening or attempting to commit suicide or serious bodily harm; or

(ii) is behaving in a manner that indicates that the patient is unable to satisfy the patient’s need for nourishment, essential medical care, or self-protection; or

(B) imminent physical or emotional harm to others, because of threats, attempts, or other acts the patient makes or commits.

(13) Psychiatrist—A physician who is certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology or who is board eligible, i.e., has an active approved application on file in the board office, or a physician who is currently in training in such a program and is supervised by a board eligible or board-certified psychiatrist.

The standard of care for psychoactive medication use in patients should not vary according to service setting. The variations in treatment should be individualized according to patient needs.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.4 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.5. General Principles

(a) All state facilities and LAs will establish and implement written policies and procedures as approved by their medical staff in accordance with this subchapter.

(b) The prescribing professional will practice within the scope of his or her license with supervision as appropriate to that license.

(c) The prescribing of psychoactive medication will be in accordance with accepted guidelines. Use of psychoactive medication that falls outside accepted guidelines may be permissible if the clinical rationale is documented in the patient record.

(d) In no case will psychoactive medication be used for punishment, for convenience of staff, as a substitute for appropriate psychosocial treatments, or in amounts that interfere with a patient’s quality of life or plan of care.

(e) The patient’s plan of care will reflect any use of psychoactive medication as part of an integrated treatment approach aimed at increasing the patient’s functioning and quality of life.

(f) The prescribing professional will document the rationale for initiating, continuing, or discontinuing psychoactive medication in the clinical record.

(g) Medications traditionally considered psychoactive may be prescribed for nonpsychiatric indications if such use is supported by accepted guidelines and the provisions of this subchapter would not apply.

(h) If a service setting must meet other standards (external or otherwise), the more stringent standards will prevail.

(i) The service setting will have policies and procedures governing the scope of practice regarding prescription of psychoactive medications when the prescribing professional is not a psychiatrist. These policies and procedures must require involvement of a psychiatrist and describe the nature, extent, and time frame of this involvement regarding the following:

(1) initiation of any psychoactive medication;

(2) significant changes in the medication regimen other than simple titration or substitution of equivalent medications;
(3) institution of polypharmacy under § 415.7(e)(4) of this title (relating to Prescribing Parameters); and
(4) prescription of any regimen that falls outside accepted guidelines, including dosing guidelines.
(j) Each service setting must ensure psychiatric consultation is available at all times.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.5 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8255

§ 415.6. Evaluation and Diagnosis
(a) Prior to initiating psychoactive medication according to accepted guidelines, the prescribing professional will:
(1) assess and document the medical history including the chief complaint, psychiatric history, substance use history, and medication history along with medication allergies of the patient;
(2) conduct and document a mental status examination of the patient according to accepted guidelines;
(3) assess and document the current physical status and general health of the patient in detail sufficient for safe prescription of the medication contemplated and may include a reference to a physical examination conducted within the past 12 months, a physical examination by the physician, or a referral of the patient for a more thorough examination as appropriate to health status and service setting;
(4) assess and document the need for laboratory screening and other procedures to gather relevant clinical information; and
(5) make and document the psychiatric diagnosis in accordance with the DSM and within the scope of the professional’s license.
(b) The prescribing professional will solicit input and discuss with the team the proposed treatment with psychoactive medication.
(c) If psychoactive medication known to cause movement disorders is contemplated, an appropriately trained and competent staff will screen the patient for abnormal involuntary movements using a standardized procedure such as the Abnormal Involuntary Movement Scale (AIMS) or Dyskensia Identification System Condensed User Scale (DISCUS), as appropriate, and document the result of the examination prior to initiation of the medication.
(d) In a psychiatric emergency, the assessments and documentation required by this section will take place as soon as is feasible after the emergency. If the patient has already received such assessments during this treatment episode, then the prescribing professional will document only those assessments and decisions that directly relate to the emergency.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.6 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.7. Prescribing Parameters
(a) Target signs and symptoms. The prescribing professional will identify and document the target signs and symptoms along with their initial frequency and severity for each medication prescribed prior to its initial use.
(b) Choice of psychoactive medication. The prescribing professional will choose the psychoactive medication in accordance with accepted guidelines.
(c) Laboratory and screenings. The prescribing professional will identify, order, and follow up any laboratory tests, screenings, or other procedures indicated by the proposed psychoactive medication and the physical condition of the patient in accordance with accepted guidelines.
(d) Dose and route of administration. The prescribing professional will choose doses at or below the maximum doses indicated in the TDMHMR Formulary. Higher doses or unusual routes of administration may be used with documentation in the patient record of appropriate supporting clinical rationale. The use of nasogastric intubation requires consultation with a second physician with documentation of the consultation in the supporting clinical rationale.
(e) Polypharmacy. The prescribing professional will not prescribe polypharmacy as a mechanism to avoid single drug dosage recommendations, adequate monotherapy drug trials, or adequate psychosocial treatment or programming. Polypharmacy is acceptable practice when:
(1) overlapping medications are used as part of a change from one medication to another;
(2) currently prescribed medication is not available in the route most appropriate to a psychiatric emergency situation;
(3) documentation exists of inadequate patient response after simpler and safer regimens have been attempted following accepted guidelines; or
(4) accepted guidelines provide no guidance and appropriate single drug trials have failed, provided the rationale for determining the choice to prescribe polypharmacy is documented to support the situation, and:
(A) the prescribing professional is privileged through the medical staff privileging process to prescribe psychoactive medication; and
(B) the prescribing professional is a psychiatrist, or in the case of a child patient, a child psychiatrist, or consults with a psychiatrist or a child psychiatrist as appropriate prior to initiating polypharmacy.
(f) Orders not written in person. The service setting will have policies and procedures which govern orders not written in person (such as verbal, telephone, fax, or electronic orders) by the prescribing professional. These will address who may give orders, who may accept them, and how orders will be documented in the patient record. Orders will be authenticated by the prescribing professional within a timeframe appropriate to the service setting as set forth in that setting’s approved policies and procedures.
(g) PRN orders. The prescribing professional may write PRN orders in accordance with accepted guidelines and Chapter 414, Subchapter I of this title (relating to Consent to Treatment with Psychoactive Medication-Mental Health Services). The service setting will have policies and procedures for PRN orders that address:
(1) indications;
(2) appropriate medication classes and dosing, including maximum dose in 24 hours; and
(3) time frames for:
(A) medication administration;
(B) order duration;
(C) assessment of effectiveness;
(D) continued PRN use; and
(E) documentation standards that apply to the order itself and the assessments.
(h) Psychiatric emergency orders. The physician may order a single, immediate administration of a psychoactive medication(s) for a psychiatric emergency. The service setting will have policies and procedures for emergency use of psychoactive medications in accordance with accepted guidelines and Chapter 414, Subchapter I of this title, governing Consent to Treatment with Psychoactive Medication-
§ 415.8. Emergency Use of Psychoactive Medication

(a) Emergency psychoactive medications are used to treat the signs and symptoms of mental illness in a psychiatric emergency when other interventions are ineffective or inappropriate.

(b) The selection of the medication should take into account the patient's current medication regimen. Using a medication that the patient is currently prescribed is preferable, if clinically indicated.

(c) All required documentation will be entered into the patient's record as soon as the emergency abates.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.8 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.9. Consent and Patient Education

(a) Informed consent for treatment with a psychoactive medication will be obtained in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 414, Subchapter I of this title (relating to Consent to Treatment with Psychoactive Medication - Mental Health Facilities) or Chapter 405, Subchapter I of this title (relating to Consent to Treatment with Psychotropic Medication - Mental Retardation Facilities), as appropriate.

(b) The use of PRN medication requires an appropriate consent process in accordance with the provisions referred to in subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The service setting will provide individual and group medication education when appropriate to patients, their families, and LARs according to accepted guidelines (e.g., TIMA patient and family education guidelines). If accepted guidelines do not exist, the education will discuss characteristics of the medication, including expected benefits, potential adverse or side effects, dosage, standard alternative treatments, legal rights, and any questions the patient, family, or LAR may have. Education is also provided to address significant changes in the patient's medication regimen.

(d) The service setting will have policies and procedures to address medication education and documentation standards.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.9 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.10. Medication Monitoring

(a) All patients receiving psychoactive medication will receive timely ongoing face-to-face evaluation and documentation by the prescribing professional of:

1. data collected since the last follow-up, including data about the frequency, severity, and timing of target signs and symptoms;

2. effectiveness of the medication in treating target signs and symptoms; and

3. assessment for side effects and adverse effects.

(b) Using the assessment data and with input from the team, the prescribing professional will continue or alter the medication regimen to maximize the benefit to the patient.

(c) At initiation of a new medication or significant change in medication regimen, medication monitoring will occur as often as medically necessary and for the period of time needed to stabilize the clinical response. Such monitoring will occur at least weekly for one month in hospitals and crisis stabilization units (unless discharged in the interim) and at least monthly in outpatient and residential settings. Rationale for less frequent monitoring will be documented.

(d) Further minimum frequencies of medication monitoring in patients are:

1. state mental health facility settings—monthly as described in subsections (a) and (b) of this section. Also, every 90 days, the medication monitoring includes review of consent issues and long-term consequences of psychoactive medication;

2. state mental retardation facility settings—monthly review of data with appropriate members of the team and every third month (quarterly) face-to-face evaluation of the patient. Rationale for less frequent monitoring will be documented;

3. LA programs—medication monitoring appointments will be scheduled quarterly as described in subsections (a) and (b) of this section. Rationale for less frequent monitoring will be documented.

(e) For medications known to cause movement disorders, appropriately trained and competent staff will screen the patient quarterly for abnormal involuntary movements using a standardized procedure such as AIMS, document the results, and arrange for any appropriate follow-up with a psychiatrist or neurologist, if indicated.

(f) Clinically significant adverse effects or side effects will be evaluated by a physician, managed according to accepted guidelines, and addressed in the plan of care.

(g) Laboratory testing or other procedures needed for the continued safe and effective use of medication will be ordered according to accepted guidelines.

(h) In any service setting that operates a pharmacy, the pharmacist will evaluate medication orders and patient medication records in accordance with the rules of the Texas State Board of Pharmacy (Texas Administrative Code, Title 22, Part 15) and will include a review for dosage range according to the TDMHR Formulary, polypharmacy, and PRN use. The service setting will have policies and procedures in place for doing this review and the documentation and outcome of any questions arising out of this review.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.10 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.11. Special Populations

Special populations will be managed according to accepted guidelines as appropriate to their special needs.

1. Patients with dyskinesias, including tardive dyskinesia.
   (A) A diagnosis of a dyskinesia will be verified by a psychiatrist or neurologist and documented in the patient record along with suspected or known duration and severity.

   (B) The patient and, as appropriate, family and LAR will receive relevant education about the diagnosis and its implications for psychoactive medication use.
§ 415.12

(C) Risks and benefits of continued psychoactive medication use will be assessed and communicated to the patient and, as appropriate, family or LAR. If continued use is recommended, a new consent for medication will be obtained.

(D) If continued use of psychoactive medication is contemplated, then the prescribing professional, if not a psychiatrist or neurologist, must obtain and document consultation from a psychiatrist or neurologist.

(2) Children.

(A) Except in an emergency, if the prescribing professional is not a child psychiatrist, then prescribing psychoactive medication which falls outside accepted guidelines requires consultation from a child psychiatrist in addition to any other requirements.

(B) If the prescribing professional is a child psychiatrist, then use of polypharmacy is governed as indicated in § 415.7 of this title (relating to Prescribing Parameters).

(3) Patients with mental retardation.

(A) A specific psychiatric diagnosis will be made in accordance with the DSM prior to initiating psychoactive medication. If it is not possible to make a specific diagnosis in accordance with the DSM, clinical justification for initiating psychoactive medication will be documented.

(B) Except in an emergency or acute psychiatric hospitalization, psychoactive medications are prescribed only after behavioral and clinical baselines have been established.

(C) Specific target behaviors or clinical signs and quality of life outcomes must be objectively defined, quantified, and tracked using recognized empirical measurement methods appropriate to the service setting in order to monitor psychoactive medication efficacy.

(4) Patients with substance use disorders.

(A) Service settings will assess the occurrence of co-occurring psychiatric and substance use disorders during evaluations for medication, initiation of medication, and medication monitoring, and will have policies and procedures which address the assessment.

(B) Provision of medication services to this population will be in accordance with accepted guidelines for patients with these comorbid conditions and will be in collaboration and coordination with other treatments that the patient may be receiving for substance use.

(5) Pregnant or nursing patients.

(A) Informed consent for use of psychoactive medication in this population must specifically document that the risk and benefits of that use on the fetus or infant have been discussed with the patient and, as appropriate, LAR and family.

(B) Prior to prescribing psychoactive medication, the prescribing professional will seek to collaborate with the physician or clinic providing prenatal, postnatal, or pediatric care to include providing, with consent, appropriate documentation of diagnoses and plan of care to that service provider.

(6) Geriatric patients. Service settings will have policies and procedures for prescribing psychoactive medication which are responsive to the special needs of geriatric patients.

(7) Other special populations. Prescribing professionals will be aware that other populations exist that may have particular clinical or special risk factors associated with their treatment with psychoactive medications. Consultation with an appropriate specialist or expert will be considered when treating these populations.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.11 adopted to be effective August 31, 2004, 29 TexReg 8325

§ 415.12. Quality Improvement

(a) Each service setting will have in place policies and procedures that address standards monitoring and related procedures for quality management of provision of psychoactive medication related services.

(b) At a minimum, psychoactive medication utilization in each service setting must be reviewed and evaluated at least semiannually and strategies for improvement identified using accepted guidelines.

(c) Required areas of review include:

(1) appropriateness of prescribing (including choice of medication, dose, and route);
(2) documentation;
(3) polypharmacy;
(4) emergency use of psychoactive medication;
(5) PRN use;
(6) medication errors;
(7) adverse drug reactions; and
(8) frequency of medication monitoring.

(d) Medication utilization will be reviewed by the medical staff and necessary strategies for improvement approved by the medical staff for implementation.

The use of proprietary names, which may follow in parentheses, is for information purposes only and is not meant to be an endorsement. Cost comparisons and prescribing information are provided as determined necessary by the Executive Formulary Committee. The DSHS/DADS Drug Formulary provides tables summarizing the recommended dosage ranges for the psychotropic drugs for clinician reference. These tables are intended as guidelines and are not intended to replace other references or the clinician’s clinical judgment. Clinicians should consult the American Hospital Formulary Service Drug Information, the approved Food and Drug Administration product labeling, and other guidelines on the appropriate prescribing of psychoactive medications. The DSHS/DADS Drug Formulary notes limitations recommended by the Executive Formulary Committee regarding the use of a drug, including specific limitations or guidelines for the use of a reserve drug.

(b) The Interim Formulary Updates are incorporated into the annual DSHS/DADS Drug Formulary. The Interim Formulary Update conforms to the same format as the DSHS/DADS Drug Formulary.

§ 415.256. Mechanical Restraint Devices

(a) If a facility’s policies and procedures permit the use of mechanical restraint, only commercially available or DS liberals-approved devices specifically designed for the safe and comfortable restraint of humans shall be used. (2) take into consideration any potential medical (including psychiatric) contraindications, including any history of physical or sexual abuse;
(3) be approved by a committee whose membership and functions are specified in the bylaws of medical staff members of the facility; and

Damaged devices shall not be used to restrain an individual and shall be repaired or discarded.

(c) Regardless of their commercial availability, the following types of devices shall not be used to implement a restraint:

(1) those with metal wrist or ankle cuffs;
(2) those with rubber bands, rope, cord, or padlocks or key locks as fastening devices;
(3) long ties (e.g., leashes);
(4) bed sheets;

(6) spit hoods, or anything that obstructs an individual’s airway, including a device that places anything in, on, or over the individual’s mouth or nose; and
(7) strait jackets.

(d) Except as otherwise permitted in this subsection, all forms of restraint, as well as a form of restraint in conjunction with seclusion, are intended to be used independently of one another. The physician shall document the clinical justification in the individual’s medical record for the simultaneous use of more than one mechanical restraint device, a mechanical restraint device and personal restraint, a mechanical restraint device and seclusion, or personal restraint and seclusion.

(e) The following are approved mechanical restraint devices:

(1) Anklets—Padded bands of cloth or leather that are secured around the individual’s ankles or legs using hook-and-loop (e.g., Velcro(R)) or buckle fasteners and attached to a stationary object (e.g., bed or chair frame). (2) Arm splints or elbow immobilizers—Strips of any material with padding that extend from below to above the elbow and which are secured around the arm with ties or hook-and-loop (e.g., Velcro(R)) tabs. If appropriate under the circumstances, they shall be secured so that the individual has full use of the hands. The device shall not be secured so tightly as to interfere with circulation, or so loosely as to permit chafing of the skin.

(3) Belts—A cloth or leather band that is fastened around the waist and secured to a stationary object (e.g., chair frame) or used for securing the arms to the sides of the body. The device shall not be secured so tightly as to interfere with breathing or circulation.

(4) Camisole—A sleeveless cloth jacket that covers the arms and upper trunk and is secured behind the individual’s back. The device shall not be secured so tightly as to interfere with breathing or circulation or to cause muscle strain. Staff members shall exercise caution when using this device, if at all, because it may impair balance and the individual’s ability to break a fall.

(5) Chair restraint—A padded stabilized chair that supports all body parts and prevents the individual’s voluntary egress from the chair without assistance (e.g., table top chair, Geri-chair). When wristlets or anklets are used to restrict movement from the chair, the devices must not be secured so tightly as to interfere with breathing or circulation.

(6) Enclosed bed—A bed with high side rails or another type of side enclosure and, in some cases, an enclosure (e.g., mesh or rails) over the bed that prevents the individual’s voluntary egress from the bed without assistance.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 415.256 adopted to be effective July 22, 2014, 39 TexReg 5581
(7) Helmet—A plastic, foam rubber, or leather head covering, such as a sports helmet, that may include an attached face guard but does not include a spit guard that interferes with breathing or obstructs the airway. The device shall be the proper size and the chinstrap shall not be so tight as to interfere with breathing or circulation.

(8) Mittens—A cloth, plastic, foam rubber, or leather hand covering such as boxing and other types of sport gloves that are secured around the wrist or lower arm with elastic, hook-and-loop (e.g., Velcro(R)) tabs, ties, paper tape, pull strings, buttons, or snaps. The device shall not be secured so tightly as to interfere with circulation.

(9) Restraining net—Mesh fabric that is placed over an individual's upper and lower trunk with the head, arms, and lower legs exposed; the net shall be secured over a mattress to a bed frame and shall never be placed over the individual's head.    C. any history or trauma that would contraindicate seclusion, the type of restraint (personal or mechanical), or a particular type of restraint device for the individual;
   D. cultural factors; and
   E. information contained in a declaration for mental health treatment, if there is one.

(f) The care of the individual shall be based on a rationale that reflects consideration of the individual’s medical needs and health status.

(1) If the facility has made a clinical determination that its use of restraint for the management of non-violent, non-self-destructive behavior requires a frequency of assessment or an aspect of care or treatment that differs from the provisions of this subchapter governing restraint in a behavioral emergency, facility policies and procedures on the use of restraint for the management of non-violent, non-self-destructive behavior shall address:

(A) the facility’s required frequency of assessment of the individual during restraint; and
(B) how the individual’s circulation, hydration, elimination, level of distress and agitation, mental status, cognitive functioning, cardiac functioning, skin integrity, nutrition, exercise, and range of motion of extremities are to be assessed and addressed during restraint.

(a) If the allegation involves the actions of a physician, dentist, pharmacist, registered nurse, or licensed vocational nurse, then a determination of whether the allegation involves the clinical practice, as defined in § 417.503 of this title (relating to Definitions), of the physician, dentist, pharmacist, registered nurse, or licensed vocational nurse is made by the head of the facility, the APS investigator, and the facility medical dental nursing pharmacy director, as appropriate to the discipline involved.

(1) If the allegation does not involve clinical practice the APS investigator pursues an investigation.

(2) If the allegation does involve clinical practice the APS investigator refers the allegation to the head of the facility, who immediately refers the allegation to the facility medical dental nursing pharmacy director, as appropriate to the discipline involved, for review for possible peer review as follows:

(A) for allegations involving physicians, pharmacists, and dentists, Investigative Medical Peer Review Operating Instruction 417-19; and

(B) for allegations involving registered nurses and licensed vocational nurses, Investigative Nursing Peer Review Operating Instruction 408-1.

(3) If the allegation involves clinical practice and non-clinical issues, then the allegation is referred to peer review in accordance with paragraph (2) of this subsection and is investigated by the APS investigator.

(A) the allegation is referred to peer review in accordance with paragraph (2) of this subsection and is investigated by the APS investigator; or

(B) the regional APS program administrator and the head of the facility jointly agree to use a previously mutually agreed-upon physician/dental/nursing/pharmacy consultant, as appropriate to the discipline involved, to make the final determination within 24 hours. The facility is responsible for the costs of the consultant’s services.

1. The review authority may interview witnesses in the course of its review.
2. If the review authority is reviewing a case determined by the APS investigator to be unconfirmed, it may consult with the APS investigator if appropriate. If the review authority determines that there is good cause to reopen the investigation (e.g., new evidence or information that was not previously available during the investigation), the head of the facility may contact the local APS supervisor to request that the case be reopened.
3. The review authority submits a report of its review to the head of the facility.
4. The head of the facility:
   1. reviews the APS investigator's report;
   2. reviews the review authority's report, if applicable; and

(e) The head of the facility may not change a confirmed finding. However, if the head of the facility disagrees with the APS investigator's finding of unconfirmed, inconclusive, or unfounded, the head of the facility may elect to change the finding to confirmed. If the head of the facility elects to change the finding to confirmed, then the confirmed finding cannot be appealed to TDPRS.

(f) If the head of the facility believes that the methodology used in conducting the investigation was flawed (e.g., failure to collect or consider evidence, such as witnesses' statement, progress notes, test results), the head of the facility may request a review in accordance with Chapter 711, Subchapter K of Title 40 (concerning Requesting a Review of Finding if You Are the Administrator or Contractor CEO).

(g) If the head the facility disagrees with:

2. the APS review as described in §711.1007 of Title 40 (relating to How is the Review of a Finding Conducted?), the head of the facility may contest the review by apprising the TDHMR director of state mental health facilities or state mental retardation facilities, as appropriate. If the TDHMR director also disagrees with the APS review, the TDHMR director may request a decision by the TDHMR commissioner and the TDPRS executive director. The decision of the TDHMR commissioner and the TDPRS executive director may not be contested.

(h) The final finding is the last uncontested finding, which may be:

1. the APS investigator's finding in accordance with subsection (a)(4) of this section;
2. the head of the facility's confirmed finding in accordance with subsection (e) of this section;

2. the method of appealing the final finding as described in Chapter 711, Subchapter M of Title 40 (concerning Requesting an Appeal if You Are the Reporter, Alleged Victim, Legal Guardian, or With Advocacy, Incorporated), if the final finding was not made by the head of the facility as provided by subsection (e) of this section; and

However, the head of the facility may change a recommended classification to a higher classification (e.g., Class II to Class I) in accordance with the evidence and subsection (a) of this section.

(c) The head of the facility is responsible for taking prompt and proper disciplinary action when an allegation involving an employee/agent is confirmed.

1. Disciplinary action against an employee is based on criteria including, but not limited to:
   - (A) the seriousness of the abuse, neglect, and/or exploitation;

     - (ii) The agent is dismissed.
   - (C) Class III Abuse or Neglect.
     - (i) The employee receives a written reprimand which becomes a part of the employee's personnel file, or the employee is placed on suspension for up to 10 days, demoted, or dismissed. 3. When disciplinary action is taken against an employee based on confirmed abuse or neglect, the head of the facility notifies the employee in writing of the disciplinary action taken and any right to a grievance hearing the employee may have under TDMHMR's internal policies and procedures relating to employee grievances. If the employee files a grievance in response to disciplinary action resulting from confirmed abuse or neglect, the head of the facility, upon the employee's written request, provides the employee with a copy or access to the investigative report. Before receiving or inspecting the report, the employee is required to complete a document acknowledging that the report's content must be kept confidential. Additional documentary evidence, if any, may be accessed by the employee in accordance with procedures outlined in the Human Resources Operating Instruction 407-12, §18 (relating to Employee Grievances).

(d) When disciplinary action is taken against an agent as a result of confirmed abuse or neglect, the head of the facility notifies the agent in writing of the disciplinary action taken.

(a) To participate in the waiver program, the child or adolescent must meet the following eligibility criteria:
(1) be eligible for Medicaid, under a Medicaid Eligibility Group included in the approved waiver;

(b) The participating child or adolescent must be determined to meet the eligibility criteria in subsection (a) of this section on an annual basis to continue in the waiver program.

(c) The department reserves the right to limit, in each county, the number of eligible children or adolescents that may participate in the waiver program, in accordance with the provisions of the approved waiver.

§ 419.4. Co-payments

The receipt of certain waiver program services may be dependent upon the child's or adolescent's and/or LAR's ability to make a co-payment.

HISTORY: The provisions of this § 419.4 adopted to be effective November 19, 2009, 34 TexReg 8038

§ 419.5. Individual Plan of Care (IPC)

(a) Each child and adolescent determined eligible to participate in the waiver program is assigned a mental health case manager, subject to the rules in Chapter 412, Subchapter I, of this title (relating to Mental Health Case Management Services). The mental health case manager must coordinate with the child or adolescent, LAR, waiver service providers and LMHA to develop an IPC that is based upon the assessment.

(b) The initial IPC must be reviewed by an LPHA at the LMHA that serves the geographic area of the participant's residence before forwarding to the department for approval. The IPC must be approved by the department before a provider can begin delivering waiver program services. To be approved, the IPC must:
(1) promote the child's or adolescent's inclusion into the community;
(2) protect the child's or adolescent's health and welfare in the community;
(3) supplement, rather than replace, the child's or adolescent's natural and other non-waiver program support systems and resources;
(4) be designed to prevent or reduce the likelihood of the child's or adolescent's admission to an inpatient psychiatric facility; and
(5) be the most appropriate type and amount of services to meet the child's or adolescent's needs.

(c) The IPC must be reviewed by an LPHA at the LMHA and submitted to the department for approval as part of the annual eligibility determination required under § 419.3 of this title (relating to Eligibility Criteria). Any recommended changes to the IPC outside the annual review process must be approved by the department.

(d) To demonstrate that the waiver program services specified in the IPC meet the requirements described in subsection (b) of this section, the LMHA must submit the following to the department:
(1) an assessment of the child or adolescent that identifies and supports the waiver program services included in the IPC; and
(2) documentation that natural and other non-waiver program support systems and resources are unavailable or are insufficient to meet the goals specified in the IPC.

(e) The department may conduct utilization review of an IPC and supporting documentation at any time to determine if the services specified in the IPC meet the requirements described in subsection (b) of this section. If the department determines that one or more of the services specified in the IPC do not meet the requirements described in subsection (b) of this section, the department may deny, reduce, or terminate the service, modify the IPC, and send written notification to the child or adolescent, LAR, and the provider.

(f) In addition to the utilization review conducted in accordance with subsection (e) of this section, the department may conduct utilization review of the provider and the provision of waiver program services at any time.

(g) The cost of implementing the IPC must be within the cost ceiling identified by the department and the single state Medicaid agency. For children and adolescents with service needs that exceed the cost ceiling, the department has a process to ensure that their needs are met, which includes examining third-party resources or possible transition to other waiver programs or inpatient services.
§ 419.6. Transition Planning

(a) The LMHA is required to develop a transition plan for an adolescent who will become 19 years of age while receiving services under the waiver program. The transition plan must be developed at least six months prior to the month the adolescent becomes 19 years of age to ensure that the adolescent is appropriately transitioned to adult services.

(b) The transition plan, required under subsection (a) of this section, must be developed in consultation with the adolescent and, if appropriate, the LAR, as well as future providers, allowing adequate time for a smooth transition of the adolescent into adult services. The transition plan must include:

(1) a summary of the mental health community services and treatment received while in the waiver program;
(2) the adolescent’s current assessment, e.g., diagnosis, medications, level of functioning, and unmet needs;
(3) information from the adolescent and the LAR, if appropriate, regarding the adolescent’s strengths, preferences for mental health community services, and responsiveness to past interventions; and
(4) an IPC that:
   (A) indicates the mental health and other community services the adolescent will receive at the point of becoming 19 years of age; and

(b) Enrollment in the HCS Program is limited to the number of individuals in specified target groups and to the geographic areas approved by CMS.

(c) HCS Program services listed in this subsection are selected for inclusion in an individual’s IPC to ensure the individual's health, safety, and welfare in the community, supplement rather than replace that individual's natural supports and other community services for which the individual may be eligible, and prevent the individual's admission to institutional services. The following HCS Program services are defined in Appendix C of the HCS Program waiver application approved by CMS and found at www.dads.state.tx.us. Services available under the HCS Program are:
